CASH DOWN.

BY T. S. ARTHUR.

'O dear! I wish there was no money in the world,' said Jacob Jones as he crumpled in his hand a piece of paper which he had just taken from an envelope, 'or,' he added in a lower voice, 'that I had a great deal more of it than has, thus far in life, fallen to my lot.'

'What have you there?' inquired the wife of Mr. Jones, looking up from her work, and speaking in a subdued voice.

'Parker's bill,' answered the husband.

'Ah, how much is it?'

'Seventy dollars.'

'No!' said Mrs. Jones, and she gave a start as she made the ejaculation, while a slight paleness overspread her face.

'It's too true; though I didn't dream of its being over thirty or forty. But running accounts always make long journeys in a short time. Ah, me! Money—money—money. It is the bane of my life.'

'Money or credit, Jacob?' Mrs. Jones looked up timidly as she said this, and in evident doubt as to the effect of her question, for Mr. Jones was one of your sensitive, self-willed men, who can never bear to be thought in the wrong.

The question was so pertinent and timely that it reached home. And it came so unexpectedly that Mr. Jones hardly knew whether to be vexed, angry, amused, or convicted of error. The reader will better understand the case after a brief retrospection.

The income of Mr. Jones was not large, yet sufficient for the comfortable support of his family, if he had not been afflicted with a singular malady, which showed itself in a strange aversion to paying cash for anything—that is, anything useful. Mrs. Jones, on the contrary, had a particular horror of running up accounts.—If she lacked the means of buying any needful article, she preferred doing without it altogether to purchasing it on credit. Mr. Jones liked to have money in his pocket. It made him feel uncomfortably poor if his purse was empty.

But, unfortunately he was a man of many wants, and we fear with a little grain of covetousness in his heart, for to look upon an attractive thing was instantly followed by a desire to possess it. This being so, it was not strange that the money carried in his pocket was ever diminishing, and that he could not always tell what had become of it.

'I am going out this morning,' said Mrs. Jones, about six months previous to the time our story commences, 'and I wish you would let me have ten dollars.'

'Ten dollars?' Mr. Jones shrugged his shoulders. 'What are you going to buy?'

'I want a piece of muslin, for one thing, and—'

'Oh, well, Mary, I can arrange all that for you, easily enough. I haven't the money to spare this morning, but I'll stop in at Parker's as I go down, and tell him to let you have whatever you want. You'll find him a very pleasant man to deal with, and glad to get our custom.'

'It don't matter particularly to-day,' said Mrs. Jones, her countenance falling, and her voice becoming a little husky; 'I can wait until to-morrow.'

'But I am not sure that I'll have the money to spare to-morrow. Business is dull, and I have considerable to pay about these times. No—I'd rather you'd get what you want at Parker's.'

Mrs. Jones never opposed her husband very strongly in anything. She felt acutely, and had her own clear views in regard to what was useful and proper; but her disposition was yielding, a little too much so, it may be admitted.

'Very well,' she answered, almost meekly, 'if you desire it, I will get what I want at Parker's.'

Mr. Jones was relieved by this expedient, and his money remained in his pocket, reserved for some stronger appeal. It never for a moment occurred to him that he was requiring his independent, sensitive-minded wife to submit to something like humiliation in going to a storekeeper, and requesting him to charge the goods she bought.

'You'd better get all you want, Mary,' he said, in a light, cheerful way, as he was leaving the house; 'the bill won't come in until the end of the year.'

Mr. Jones had nearly twice the sum in his purse that his wife had asked for, and the fact that it was still in his possession, gave him a comfortable feeling of ease in money matters. On his way to the place of business, a pair of china vases captivated his fancy, and, on the impulse of the moment, he stepped into the store and inquired the price.

'Fifteen dollars,' was the answer.

'Dearer than I supposed,' said he in a rather disappointed voice. And Jones was turning away, when the storekeeper, reading his customer at a glance, said—

'For the price six [illegible] lives in Walnut street—just such a pair for eighteen dollars. They're very chaste in design.'

And the dealer handled the vases dextrously, and showed them to the best advantage.

'They're handsome enough, and I should like very well to own them; but money is money now-a-days. We look at fifteen dollars twice before we conclude to spend that sum for an article we may do without.'

'Take them for fourteen,' said the dealer; 'that is only a little above cost.'

Mr. Jones could not resist the temptation.

'Very well; send them home,' said he, thrusting his hand into his pocket, and drawing out his purse.

'What a pleasant surprise I will give Mary,' thought Mr. Jones, as he stepped from the china dealer's store. 'Our parlor mantel-piece need some ornaments, and these china vases are just the thing. And they are so cheap.'

Fourteen dollars from twenty left but the small balance of six. Mr. Jones was expert at figures, and it did not take him long to do this sum in subtraction. He felt considerably poorer on reaching his place of business, and half inclined to call himself a fool for spending so much money for an article in no way necessary for home comfort. The presentation of a bill of ten dollars from a blind-maker, who had been called upon early in the spring, to give a better appearance to the parlor windows, depressed the thermometer of his feelings somewhere in the neighborhood of zero. But the blind-maker had to wait. Nothing could be spared on that day from the business fund, as there were several payments to be met, and Mr. Jones had a partner who kept the cash, and who always looked a little sober when the drafts on private account were larger or more frequent than he thought the business justified. His partner had as large a family to support as Mr. Jones, but he contrived to do it on several hundred dollars less a year.

It did occur to Mr. Jones to pay half the blind-maker's bill, but as that would leave him only one dollar, he dismissed the thought instantly; To be left with only one dollar in his pocket would never answer in the world.

At dinner time Mr. Jones started homeward, thinking, as he walked along, of the beautiful vases, and of the pleasure they had given his wife. He had still six dollars in his pocket. Partly recovered from the depressing effect of the blind-maker's bill, he began, once more to feel a little comfortable about money matters. Six dollars made a very nice little sum; and as his eyes glanced into the shop windows as he moved along, he began to admit the tempter once more into his heart. A box of building blocks, just the thing for little Eddy, caught his eye as he passed the 'Temple of Fancy,' and he could not resist the desire to go in and ask the price.

'One dollar,' said the ready salesman.

'A cheap pleasure,' thought Mr. Jones, and—'I'll take them,' fell from his lips.

With five dollars safely resting in his purse, and a package of building blocks for little Eddy in his hands, Mr. Jones now pursued his way homewards, elated with pleasure at the thought of how gratified his wife would be with her vases, and how delighted Eddy would be with his building blocks. When he arrived at home his dead-latch key turned briskly in the lock, and he entered with light, almost springing footsteps. First glancing into the parlor to see if the vases had arrived, he found them adorning the marble mantel. They really looked elegant, and threw an air of taste over the whole apartment. A little while he remained enjoying the sight, and then went up to his wife's sitting-room.

Mrs. Jones received her husband with her accustomed smile, though it was not so bright a one as he had expected to see illumine her countenance.

'What is this?' she inquired, as he laid the package he had brought home in her lap.

'Some building blocks for Eddy.'

'Dear little fellow! he will be so delighted,' murmured Mrs. Jones, as she broke the string, and removed the wrapper from the box.

'Where is he?' inquired the father.

'He's asleep.'

'Oh! how do you like your vases?' Mr. Jones spoke as if the vases had just come into his thoughts, though, if the truth be told, they had been uppermost in his mind since he crossed the threshold of his door.

'They are very beautiful, Jacob,' replied his wife, as she looked up affectionately into her husband's face. Yet the words were not uttered with a heartiness that satisfied his expectations. Nor was he altogether sure that it was not increased humility that gave to her eyes their unwonted lustre.

'I knew they were just what you wanted, dear,' said Mr. Jones, in so tender a voice that his wife could not give words to what was in her heart.

More pain than pleasure had the vases already given to Mrs. Jones; for she had yet too distinct a remembrance of her husband's words in the morning, when she asked him for money to buy things needed in the family, to feel comfortable in the possession of what was merely ornamental.

'They were only fourteen dollars,' said Mr. Jones.

'And so cheap,' continued the husband, 'that I could not resist the temptation of buying them.

If his ear did not deceive him, a faint sigh had breathed through the lips of his wife. He looked earnestly at her, but her head was bent down, and he was not able to see distinctly the expression on her face.

The thermometer of Mr Jones feelings began to fall. He anticipated a delightful enthusiasm on the part of his wife, and was not, therefore, satisfied with her quiet expression of pleasure and the less so when it was plainly evident that this pleased exterior was but a veil to cover a more sober state of mind.

'Did you go to Parker's this morning?' he inquired, changing the subject.

'Yes.' Mrs. Jones smiled as she looked up.

'You found him very pleasant, I presume?'

'Of course. He would have sold me half the goods in the store, I believe.'

'A very agreeable man.'

'Too agreeable for me,' said Mrs. Jones. The fact is that I have been on the stool of repentance ever since I came home. I wanted only about ten dollars' worth of dry goods; but when the articles I selected arrived with the bill, lo, and behold! my purchases had reached the sum of twenty-six dollars!'

'These store keepers understand their customers,' replied Mr. Jones, laughing.

'Indeed they do. But I know one thing; if I had been dealing for cash, Mr. Parker's bill would not have exceeded my limit of ten dollars. It is such a temptation to buy when you don't have to pay the money right down. Excuse me, Jacob, for saying what now comes to my lips. Don't take it unkindly, for it is not meant so.'

And Mrs. Jones looked at her husband almost timidly.

'Say on, Mary. I will never take anything unkindly from you, for I am sure that nothing you will ever say to me can spring from a feeling of unkindness.'

'I was just thinking of that pair of vases, Jacob.'

'Were you?'

'And it has just occurred to me, that they have cost more than fourteen dollars, perhaps twice that sum.'

'How can you make this out?'

'If you had given me ten dollars this morning, I would have limited my purchases to that sum of necessity. Of course, the vases would not have been bought. As it is, they have cost, besides the fourteen dollars you have paid for them, the difference between ten dollars and the amount of my credit bill at Parker's.'

'Rather a confused statement of the case, Mary, and rather forced,' replied Mr. Jones, 'Still I'm ready enough to admit that an error has occurred. I ought to have given you the ten dollars you wanted when I had it in my pocket. If I had done so, the aspect of things would have been changed. Instead of possessing a pair of handsome vases, not absolutely needed for home comfort or happiness, and having a debt of twenty-six dollars at Parker's, which will have to be paid at the end of the year, we both would have enjoyed the needful things you bought, unalloyed by the consciousness that a draft had been drawn upon the future which it might be no easier to meet when due than at present. Ah, me! I'm afraid I shall never learn wisdom Mary.'

It always grieved Mrs. Jones to see her husband in trouble from any cause, and, now that she had disturbed the cheerful current of his feelings, she instantly sought to restore its peaceful flow. So she spoke lightly of what had occurred, praised the vases, and said they were just what she wanted.

'I will be very economical, said she, 'and so will you, dear. In a little while we can save all the vases cost, and so have them without any drawback.'

Very ready was Jacob Jones to accept comfort particularly from this quarter. The words of his wife were like the sun's rays melting through a cloud. The husband was himself again.

But, was he any the wiser for this little episode! Not much, we are sorry to say. The shadow had passed from his spirit too quickly to leave even a memory behind. On the very next day, he spent five dollars in things superfluous; and even while he was doing this, his wife, from economical considerations, was musing over the propriety of making her last season's bonnet answer, with some fresh trimming, instead of buying a new one.

And so matters went on until the year closed when there came a summing up of the year's accounts.

'Money or credit, Jacob?' Mrs. Jones had said in answer to the exclamation of her husband that money was the bane of his life; and Mr. Jones, thrown considerably aback by the question, which came home upon him with a telling force, was in a state of mind nearly balanced between anger, confession of error, and amusement at the aptness of his wife's interrogation.

'Credit, Mary, credit!' exclaimed Mr. Jones with a forced emphasis. 'You have struck the nail on the head. No—not money, but credit; that is the bane of my life! Why am I such a fool? I run up accounts with a sort of pleasure, as if I were getting things for nothing, but feel sensibly poorer, whenever I pay out the ready money for a needful article.'

As Mr. Jones closed the sentence, the waiting-maid opened the door and handed in another letter. He broke the the seal with a foreboding of something unpleasant. A long, narrow piece of paper was revealed, with some unmistakeable words printed at the head, among which were 'Bought of———,' and below which figures. A glance [illegible] the eyes to the footing up of the column of figures gave the unwelcome result. It was the grocer's bill, and the sum total of one hundred and thirty-one dollars. His exclamation of surprise fell with a smiting sound on the ears of his wife.

'What is it?' she asked almost falterinly.

'Green's account.'

'Oh! his bill cannot be very large; for I never sent the pass-book when I had the money to buy what I wanted.'

'It is a hundred and thirty-one dollars.'

'That seems impossible.'

'I presume it's all right. But you can look over it yourself.'

The bill was carefully scanned, though without discovering any error of consequence. Two barrels of flour, a basket of wine and a few other items counted up heavily.

'Jacob,' said Mrs. Jones, speaking in a low, winning, but very earnest voice, 'there is something wrong in all this. No reason in the world exists why we should have these bills to trouble us.'

'I don't know about that,' replied Mr. Jones, somewhat moodily. 'I wish I could believe so.'

'We ought to pay the cash for everything we buy.' Mrs. Jones ventured upon a more decided position.

'It is easy enough to say that,' retorted her husband, evidently fretted by the words. 'But how is the cash to be paid down when we haven't the cash in our purse?'

'Are you really desirous to have this question of paying cash solved?' Mrs. Jones queried in a pleasant way.

'O, certainly. Read me the riddle and I shall be eternally obliged.'

'I believe I can show that there was no need of running up these two bills, at least.'

'Parker's and Green's?'

'Yes.'

'I am all attention.'

'The two amount to over two hundred dollars.'

'Yes.'

'If I can show you where, during the past six months, one hundred dollars have been spent needlessly, in pretty round sums, will you concede that smaller sums have gone in the same way, to an equal amount?'

'O, yes; I'll concede to it without a moment's hesitation.'

'Very well; take your pencil and set down the items as I name them.'

Mr. Jones took his pencil and a piece of paper.

'There are fourteen dollars for that pair of vases.'

Mr. Jones winced a little, but did not reply. The vases had been purchased solely to gratify his wife—at least he had always, in his own mind, assumed this to be the case—and her mentioning these articles first seemed a little unkind.

'And twenty-three for the pier-glass.'

This article Mr. Jones had bought at a public sale, where it went off 'temptingly low.' It proved too wide for the pier, and rather marred than increased the beauty of his parlor.

'Very well; go on,' said he in a voice not over cheerful.

'Six dollars for the engraving of Franklin at the French Court, and eight dollars for the frame that makes fourteen more.'

'You are counting up pretty fast, Mary.'

'These are the heaviest items. I will now gather up some of the smaller ones.'

'We have attended four concerts, at a dollar a ticket; and had to engage a carriage on two of these occasions, in consequence of rain.—Twelve dollars were expended here.'

'But we must have some recreation. Both of us are fond of music.'

'True, Jacob. Yet, if we are among the thousands who cannot afford these luxuries, we should bear the privation cheerfully.'

But we certainly can afford a concert now and then, Mary.'

'It seems not, Jacob. At least, we have not enjoyed these entertainments during the past season without the penalty of debt. While we were paying out our dollars for music, we had no money to send to the store for sugar and coffee. Is not this so?'

Jones gave his shoulders a quick shrug, implying forced conviction.

'My beautiful pencil-case, the gift of which I gratefully acknowledge, cost five dollars. Forgive me for naming this. It is one of the items. As is, also, this exquisite little breast-pin, that lured from your pocket the only ten dollar piece it contained at the time, and compelled me to send the pass-book again to Green's. The old music-stool was a little shabby; but it would have done a year or two of good service yet. Seven dollars gave us a new one. Six dollars went for the tulip shades to the gas chandelier. How much does that count up?'

'Ninety-seven dollars,' replied Mr. Jones, after running his eyes along the figures he had set down.

'Shall I go on?'

'No—that will do. We'll just call it a round hundred, and I'll concede the other hundred you bargained for. So there are two hundred dollars almost trifled away, while bills were running up at the dry goods store and grocery.'

'There is only one remedy, Jacob,' said his wife, firmly.

'Name it.'

'Cash down,' replied Mrs. Jones.

'And cash down it shall be!' said Mr. Jones, emphatically.

'Not cash down for superfluities, Jacob.'

The wan smile with which this was said, soothed the slightly chafed feeling occasioned, and Mr. Jones answered promptly and heartily—

'No, not for superfluities, but for necessaries. The superfluities can come afterwards, provided there be anything over. Vases, mirrors, jewelry, concerts, and the like, must take the place of secondaries, not primaries.'

'Hold fast to this, Jacob,' said his companion, 'and I will never again hear the words from your lips—' Money is the bane of my life.'

☞ Forty of the Fillibusters who left New York on the Northern Light for Nicaragua, were put ashore at Sandy Hook lighthouse by the captain, as their passage tickets were found to be spurious. They had a hard day's walk back to the city, and became intensely disgusted with the inhospitality of the Jersey farmers, with fillibustering and with destiny generally. They publish a card in which they say that they consider themselves as respectable as most of those that went, and consider themselves outrageously treated.

An indignation meeting at the Five Points is contemplated.

☞ Boston is a little peculiar in some things. Margaret McGee, for instance, wanted to get admission to the almshouse, the other day, and stole a neighbor's baby to take with her, as an irresistable persuasion. The parents of the child were in great distress till they found the lost baby, and Mrs. McGee got admitted to the house of correction instead of the almshouse. Again, a delinquent tax-payer, receiving a bill for nine dollars, wrote to the collector, acknowledging "his polite note," regretting that he had not the money by him, and adding in a postscript:—"Should it be in your power to place me in any position where I might obtain regular meals, (however frugal they may be,) you will confer a favor."

DISGRACEFUL AFFRAY.—The quiet people of Peru were thrown into a state of excitement one day this week by a murderous attempt of a father and his son to take the life of their fellow townsman. The assaulting party was arrested and brought before Mr. Thompson, Justice of the Peace, and while a hearing of their case was being had, the offenders simultaneously jumped and felled the officer, who had them in custody, together with the magistrate, to the floor with blows from heavy arm chairs which were near by, at the time. The villians escaped from the city, but were subsequently arrested and placed in jail at Ottowa, where it is hoped they will meet with the "reward of merit," which they are justly entitled to—ten years at Alton.—LaSalle Journal, March 15th.

CITY OF CHICAGO.

Wednesday Morning, ...March 5, 1856.

Who Voted and How They Voted.

Great surprise will be felt by readers acquainted with city politics, when they know what an enormous vote was cast at the election yesterday. When, however, they learn that a greater part of the increase over the vote of last year is due to illegality, backed up by perjury, they will cease to wonder at the figures presented. When they learn that the Irish in the forenoon took and held the Seventh Ward, that the challengers who were sent there were either driven away, or were, by fear of violence, deterred from doing their duty, that the votes rejected in other Wards were poured in there by scores and hundreds; that the same men voted under assumed names in many cases twice, and in some three times; that men who were never seen in the Ward before, voted by dozens; that the inspectors of the polls utterly and totally neglected the essential part of their duty; that they either dared not resist or connived at the iniquity; the Nebraska traders were on hand, urging on the work—when they learn these things, they will not be surprised at any result. At the Seventh these outrages upon the rights of others were more glaring than elsewhere; but at every poll they were perpetrated to a greater or less extent. Men were imported expressly to vote. The bawdy houses, the gambling-hells and the grog-shops all contributed their share of perjurers.—The trade carried on in these dens was felt to be in danger if Sherman should succeed, and they worked for life. All day the city swarmed with riff-raff and refuse that they turned out. They filled the Dyer carriages; they carried Dyer flags; they strained their throats in hurrahs for Dyer. The groceries ran whiskey for Dyer's honor and the frenzy of the poor dupes who were persuaded into voting for their own degradation and the triumph of those by whom they are held down. In close union with these was the entire Catholic population under instruction and surveillance. It went as an unit. Not a man who believes in the supremacy of the Papal Power, that did not go straight out and directly for the triumph of Slavery. Not a man who gives up his conscience to the control of the priesthood, that did not use his ballot to beat down Freedom.

On the other side was the American population almost without exception. Five-sixths of the business men, of the professional men, of the master mechanics, of the journeymen, of the clerks, the students, the laborers, of American birth and a majority of the intelligent Germans who were able to distinguish the difference between liberty and license, were for Sherman. On one side were the tax-payers, and on the other, the Irish—naturalized and unnaturalized—and those who direct and control them—the gamblers and those they fleece—the grog-shops and their hangers on—office-seekers and their pimps—then stimulated by drink and inflamed by passion, prejudice and interest, aided by the few Americans who can believe in Nebraskaism, made up the Dyer strength. With his money and his base appeals to the basest motives—his dancing in low dancing-houses; his drinking in lower groggeries; his promises to reduce licenses; to reverse the action of the present authorities in the suppression of disorders, have done the work.

What good citizen does not regret the degradation of Chicago?

A Registry Law Needed.

The events of yesterday, in more than one of the Wards in this city, demonstrate the imperative necessity for a stringent Registry Law for the suppression of illegal voting. We are not among those who would throw restrictions around the right of suffrage not demanded by considerations of public good; nor are we, like the Black Democracy whose whole strength is in the unbroken point of the Irish Catholic party, in favor of throwing down all the barriers that are now interposed between the exercise of an important franchise, and those scoundrels who make light of perjury when it will aid in elevating their friends to power or opening the door of the public crib. When, as in the Seventh Ward, hordes of men coming from—no one knows where, who have been here—no one knows how long, who may or may not be citizens, who may or may not be residents of the city, who go in a solid mass for the worst men and the most iniquitous measures and who, under the direction of the unscrupulous partisans who urge them on are all eager to swear, and who would swear to anything—no matter what—when such things take place under the eyes of those of American birth and American principles, those who use need no argument to convince them that additional guards to protect the ballot-box from the invasion of the vandals are needed and must be established, or that on election day the people, to whom that ballot-box is a sacred thing, must take the matter into their own hands.

Of course, a Registry Law, effective and thorough in its operations—one that would give commissioners or inspectors time and the power to examine into the claims of the Irish hordes that now out-vote and brow-beat American citizens at the polls—would be opposed to the bitter end by that Sham Democracy that stops at no frauds, sticks at no perjuries, when its objects are to be accomplished. Such a law, making a registration of every voter's name and residence, at least ten days before the day of voting, an indispensable pre-requisite to the right to vote at all, would put a stop to the frauds and illegalities which now in too many localities swell Black Democratic majorities. That it would be opposed, and opposed vigorously and unscrupulously, we have no doubt. But there is sufficient moral strength and sufficient firmness of purpose among the good citizens of Illinois, to compel its enactment. Let us have it, among the first acts of the next Legislature. If not for the State at large, let us have it for cities where fraud and perjury have a chance to escape the punishment they deserve.

Cannot Support Him.

The Boston Daily Advertiser, one of the oldest and most respectable Whig journals, refuses to support Mr. Fillmore for the Presidency. It says:

> "If therefore it shall prove true, as we regret to find it is very confidently stated, that Mr. Fillmore has entered a Know Nothing lodge, and passed through the three degrees of the secret order, taking the incident oaths and obligations, we submit that he has forfeited the respect of the intelligent and honest people of the United States to an extent that will make his election impossible. We are reluctant, however, to believe that this is the case; but until this point is settled, we can form no opinion and propose no line of conduct for the campaign. It would give us great pleasure to support Mr. Fillmore; but we must know what has become of his whig principles before we can agree to support him. If he has lost his principles, we have not lost ours."

We suppose there can be no reasonable doubt that Mr. Fillmore has taken the above-mentioned "oaths and obligations." In the New York State Council the President of Council 177, of Buffalo, declared that he himself was present when the obligation of each of the degrees was administered to Mr. Fillmore." If this be true the Advertiser is precluded by its declaration above quoted, from supporting Mr. Fillmore under any circumstances.

Marshall County Bonds Restrained.—We learn from the Lacon, (Ill.) Gazette, that upon a motion argued at Ottawa on Wednesday last, before Judge Hollister, of this judicial circuit, a temporary injunction was granted upon the $35,000 of county bonds, ordered to be issued to the Western Airline Railroad, at a late meeting of the Board of Supervisors. The case will come up for trial at the April term of the Marshall Circuit Court.

Ohio Brooms.—The town of Poland, in Mahoning county, Ohio, has eight broom manufactories that turn out three hundred dozen brooms per week. There are patented machines for the work, and an one lately invented and labeled "self-regulating," a hand can make from two to four dozen brooms a day. The owners of the broom factory pay from three to four cents a pound for the brush, and the handles are made for a [illegible] patent lathes.

The [illegible] of the Washington Union are delighted at the nomination of Fillmore and Donelson. Such a combination will make easy times in their office, during the coming campaign. They say:—

> "We could hardly have suggested a combination which would make our task so easy in the coming canvass. It will be remembered that whilst Mr. Fillmore was President Mr. Donelson was editor of the Washington Union. The Union stood in direct opposition to Mr. Fillmore's administration, and Mr. Donelson has left on record an abundance of available materials on which the head of the ticket can be effectually crushed. We shall make Mr. Donelson do our work against Mr. Fillmore. It will be amusing to find how bad a man Mr. Fillmore is, according to Mr. Donelson."

The War Question.

Amid the many war reports, and right upon the heels of the war positions and war talk of Senators Pearce of Maryland, Stuart of Michigan, and Mason of Virginia, the money market in New York, and the Commercial men of the seaboard, are cool and unalarmed. It is believed by them, that the Nicaragua question—the real source of difficulty—is in the process of settlement, while it is known, that the Enlistment question cannot end in war.

Senator Seward made a pacific speech in the Senate, Feb. 29, and this is supposed to have fired up the Southern men. After it, the Senators named, blew their war blast. If the New Yorker had been stoutly resolved upon a conflict with Great Britain, we should have heard, doubtless, less of threat, and more of arbitration, which he pressed. But, evidently, politicians, as well as commercial men, on the seaboard, regard a war just now between the United States and England as hardly within the range of probabilities.

One fact attracts general notice, and that is, the fact, that Lord Clarendon's proposition for an arbitration, had never been communicated to our Government. After this speech was delivered in the House of Lords, Mr. Buchanan demanded an explanation of him, when he said that his instructions, proposing an arbitration, had been sent to Washington in November.—These instructions, or rather this proposition, Mr. Crampton submitted to Mr. Marcy only on the 27th, stating simply that it had been overlooked. This neglect is difficult to understand. It gives rise to suspicion of double-dealing, which damages the British Ministry with all classes, and leads many to suppose, that their instructions were an afterthought. For what man of common sense could neglect so important a point? What Minister dare plead, as an excuse, that he had overlooked them? How, indeed, could it be done, involving, as it does, questions which threatens now, and has threatened for a year or more past, the peace of the two countries? We may be assured that the British people will closely scan this conduct, and, unless we mistake, condemn it as sharply as any American could do.

A Voice from the Rural Districts.

On Saturday evening last, the 1st instant, a large and enthusiastic meeting of the citizens of Wheaton, Du Page county, was held at the Illinois Institute.

The meeting was called to order by Prof. J. A. Marling, and Rev. E. F. Marking was chosen chairman, and E. M. Winslow, Secretary.

L. E. D'Wolf, Esq., was called upon to address the meeting. He gave a short history of the doings of Slavery, pointed out its objects, and aims, as manifested in the acquisition of Territory, and in the late legislation of the country. He was followed by Prof. Martling, who made a most thrilling appeal in behalf of Kansas and of Freedom. At the conclusion of the meeting the following preamble and resolutions were passed:

Whereas, The present struggle going on in Kansas between the Free State men and the Slavery Propagandists, is the legitimate fruit of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and although it was not so designed to be by its originators, yet we trust it will prove the reflex of continued warfare to be waged by Freedom against Slavery, until universal Liberty shall triumph. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, as Freemen, deeply sympathize with our friends in Kansas, and so far as our influence and good wishes can go, we bid them God speed.

Resolved, That the advance guard of Freedom, now manfully struggling in Kansas, are not only fighting their own battles, but ours, and again we say God speed.

Resolved, That the present Administration of the United States is unworthy of the confidence and support of Freemen; its vigor being chiefly manifested in the destruction of defenceless towns, in the enforcement of illegal and infamous laws, and in the propagation of Slavery, making it the only interest to be fostered and protected and uniformly neglecting and disregarding every consideration of duty and sound statesmanship, in its insane desire to make that paramount.

Resolved, That in virtue of the present condition of affairs in Kansas, we hereby request the member of Congress from this district, Hon. J. H. Woodworth to vote for the admission of A. H. Reeder, as delegate from Kansas, and if that Territory should apply for admission as a Free State, to vote for its immediate and unconditional admission.

Resolved, That in N. P. Banks we have an able and tried champion of Freedom, and in his election we recognize the fact that there is moral courage enough in Congress to resist any further aggressions of Slavery, under whatever pretext they may be made.

Resolved, That we solemnly pledge ourselves to render, to the extent of our ability such aid and assistance as the exigencies of this contest may require, first money, and afterward, if necessary, men, and may God speed the right.

Resolved, That the Secretary furnish the Chicago Journal, Tribune, Democratic Press, Democrat and Du Page County Journal, each a copy of the proceedings of this meeting, for publication. Adjourned.

Messrs. L. E. D'Wolf, R. F. Markham and J. A. Martling were appointed a corresponding committee.

F. P. Blair and the Merchants of Baltimore.

The meeting called to dispute Mr. Blair's right to represent the merchants of Baltimore in the Pittsburgh Convention, met at the Exchange, at 1 o'clock on the 27th.

Dr. J. Hanson Thomas called the meeting to order, and nominated the following gentlemen as officers of the meeting, who were chosen by acclamation:

President—John C. Brune.

Vice Presidents—Geo. Brown, C. C. Jamison, W. T. Young, Jno. B. Morris, D. S. Wilson, Thomas Whitridge, William Woodville, William McKim, Jno. S. Gittings, Thos. Swann, G. S. Oldfield, Robert Garrett, Wm. F. Murdoch, A. Schumacher, Andrew Aldridge, John Q. Hewlett, Wm. Devries, Columbus O'Donnell, Jos. C. Wilson, Jno. H. Duvall, Wm. G. Harrison, Alexander Kirkland, William Cooke, Francis Neale.

Secretaries—P. H. Sullivan, B. F. Newcomer, Wm. Wilson, jr., G. U. Porter.

A Committee appointed for this purpose reported the following Resolutions:

Whereas, We the merchants, traders, and business men generally, of the city of Baltimore, in public meeting assembled, at our Exchange, having learned through the public prints, that the President of a political convention, styling itself "the Republican Convention," held recently at Pittsburg, announced that he represents "the Merchants of Wealth and standing in Baltimore," and

Whereas, This meeting comprises members of all political parties recognized in this city and state; and, whereas, we desire to vindicate our commercial and industrial classes from the imputation of tendencies either "Abolition" or "Free soil;"

Be it therefore Resolved, That we, the merchants, traders, business men of the city of Baltimore, take this, the earliest opportunity, indignantly to disavow having conferred authority on any one to represent us in said convention, and to declare that we have no sympathy with it or its principles.

Resolved, That the State of Maryland and the city of Baltimore hold the strongest attachment to the Union and the Constitution of the United States—among the very first to adopt, Maryland will be one of the last to abandon these sacred ties.

Resolved, That we have that affection for the State of Maryland, its honor, and its institutions, that we shall ever cling to and preserve them, without spot or blemish, as they have been bequeathed to us.

Resolved, That whilst our loyalty to the South cannot be doubted, we, the merchants of the city of Baltimore, gladly avail of this occasion to declare our affinities with our friends in all sections of the country in their reprobation of all unnecessary and hurtful political agitation.

Resolved, That these proceedings, signed by the President and secretaries, be published in the daily papers of this city, with the request that their exchanges copy.

The preamble and resolutions were adopted by acclamation, and on motion the meeting adjourned.

As soon as the meeting was declared adjourned, various calls were made for Mr. Cochran, and that gentleman being present, seemed to be in the act of commencing some remarks, when shouts went up of "Turn him out," "Ride him on a Rail," "We want no Negro Orators here," &c. Mr. Cochran came forward, and wished to explain the part he had taken in the nomination of Mr. Blair, but was prevented from speaking. We fancy a meeting that dared not allow an explanation to be made of what was the special object of complaint, must have represented a very small segment of public opinion, or else the merchants of Baltimore have much less magnanimity than they enjoy the credit of possessing.—N. Y. Even'g Post.

Laconic.—When the voting for Chaplain was going on in the House of Representatives the other day, Gen. Amos P. Granger, who had brought forward the name of Daniel Waldo, the Revolutionary soldier and preacher, who was subsequently elected, briefly alluded to his interesting history, and earnestly commended him to the favorable consideration of his fellow members. A member who was present, and who described the scene to us, says that, when the roll was called, the General responded: "General Waldo, of the Revolution." Questions poured in upon him from all quarters during the voting, and were answered in the instant about as follows: "Which side was he on?"—"Inquire at the Pension Office," said the General. "What's his politics?" "Revolutionary," was the reply. "What's his religion?" "Congregational." "Is he a Fillibuster?" "Yes," said the General, "he Fillibustered against George the Third." The result was that the old Revolutionary patriot distanced his dozen competitors on the second ballot, receiving more votes than all of them combined.

Peoria Starch Factory.—Just below Gregg & Nowland's new distillery, the 'Peoria Starch Company,' have commenced the erection of a building for the manufacture of the article indicated by their name. The building is sixty feet in width, and one hundred and sixty in length, and two stories high. It contains ten ovens, which are ten feet by fifteen, and ten feet high. When completed, it will afford constant employment for about forty men, and will manufacture about 5000 pounds of starch per day. The cost of the building and machinery is about thirty thousand dollars. Reed & Lupton are the builders; T. Comegys, carpenter and finisher.

The Company embrace some of our heavy citizens, and will no doubt add an important item to the business of the city.—Peoria Transcript.

Consoling.—The Boston Chronicle says, speaking of the "proposed war" with England:

> "Suppose the English should burn New York—that is no more than the New Yorkers do themselves once in every five years; and when they should have destroyed that village they would have the satisfaction of knowing that they had burned $160,000,000 worth of property belonging to their own countrymen."

TOLLA: A Tale of Modern Rome. By Edmond About. Publishers: Whittemore, Niles and Hall.

There is a greater charm in simplicity than can be easily described. We have somewhere seen this statement: "The delight of the intellect is to define"—which is a gateway opening into the region of truth. The whole universe surrounds every human being, inviting him to make what he will of it; hence, there is danger that he will be bewildered by the lavishness of his materials, and make nothing of it. But as soon as some little flower of thought is outlined from the universal life surrounding it, the whole world is filled with astonishment and delight. What is there in a simple statue or picture to be so much admired, we ask? Is not the world filled with people more beautiful than representations of them in stone or paint can be? Is not nature more beautiful than paint? What is in this story, of which the incidents are commonplace, and the characters such as are constantly to be met with, that so much noise should be made about it? Our wise questions are unanswered, and the world continues to be delighted with carved fragments of stone, and bits of painted canvass, and stories, and poems, where, in these forms, it discovers truth and reality.

"Tolla" is the history of the engagement of a young Roman girl—daughter of the most noble Alexander Feraldi, Count of the Holy Empire, Baron of Vignano, &c.—to Manuel or Lello Caromila, second son of the Prince Caromila Borgia.

Tolla and Lello love each other, but the Feraldi family is somewhat decayed in power, and Lello fears to acquaint his ambitious relatives with his engagement. Before doing so he will wait until his elder brother, who upon the eve of making a mésalliance, is rescued from his danger. For so important a cause, the parents of Tolla consent to this secrecy. Meanwhile, the secret engagement of Tolla and Lello become the talk of Rome—as not less in Italy than elsewhere, it is impossible that a secret should be kept.

Tolla is beautiful, poetical, loving; as undreamed-of obstacles threaten to separate her from Lello, her love increases in intensity. Lello is good-hearted, timid and cowardly. He cannot make up his mind to desert Tolla, but becomes constantly more fearful of opposing his family. He believes them to be ignorant of his wishes. They, meanwhile, are playing with him as with a child, seeming to believe him a free agent, but determined at the right moment to prove him a slave.

At the right moment Lello is beguiled from Rome. Before his departure he takes Tolla to a Convent, (as a public avowal of his intention of making her his wife), from which she mournfully says that only death or Lello shall take her. Tolla pines in her Convent—Lello is carried about through France and England, and kept from Rome; finally he is beguiled into falling in love with an actress in Paris. Tolla dies in the Convent to which he had led her. Meanwhile the whole of Rome has become acquainted with her history and sufferings; during her last illness every heart in the city beat with anxiety and love for her; her funeral is celebrated with princely magnificence, and at the service of the dead mournful crowds assemble to gaze upon her for the last time. "The soldiers who mounted guard over her bier were blinded by tears." In Paris, meanwhile, Lello has discovered the treachery of his mistress, and has hurried to Rome; he comes to gaze upon Tolla for the last time. The memory of Tolla's beauty and goodness is still cherished in Rome. The Church of the Holy Apostles, and the tomb of the poor loving girl, have become, on certain anniversaries, the resort of pilgrims, and more than one young Roman adds to her evening litany, "Saint Tolla, virgin and martyr, pray for us!"

The little volume "Tolla," it is said in "A note to the American public," by which the American edition is prefaced, is a book "about which people have been lately talking in the Salons of Paris, to the exclusion of all other literary performance. It has produced controversies; we believe that it has nearly produced a duel. Extraordinary stories of its sale have been circulated to the amazement of author's who were comforting themselves with the belief that their performances went off flatly in consequence of the war, solely. Indeed, it is impossible to describe the charm of this narrative concerning a few persons, who move like living beings before the reader—the charm which surrounds the pure and beautiful Tolla, as its fragrance is breathed forth as from a flower—unless, indeed, we should say that Mr. About possesses a very unusual degree of perfection, [illegible]

Italian life, without being formally described, appears with admirable vividness throughout the narrative. The translation of this book is excellent. It has been rendered into the most choice and idiomatic English.

WEBER'S OUTLINES OF UNIVERSAL HISTORY.—By Jewett, Hickling, & Swan.

This admirable work, as its title states, an outline of Universal History, is well constructed, clear, and comprehensive. The most prominent events and important facts of the world's history are so grouped together that a clear idea of them, with their consequences, and relations may be obtained.

The imagination of the pupil will be thus impressed with a general idea of the progress of the world's history, and a clue given him, by which he will be guided and assisted, in his profounder studies, or more elaborate investigations.

When works of which this volume is a representative, philosophical, suggestive, and at the same time satisfying one introduced more generally into our schools and families, a much more comprehensive culture, and earnest tho't-fulness among our young people, will be the result.

ELEMENTS OF PHYSICAL AND POLITICAL GEOGRAPHY. By Cornelius S. Cartée, A. M., Principal of Howard Schools, Charlestown. Illustrated by Wood Engravings. Boston, Hickling, Swan, & Brown.

This admirable book is designed as a text book for Schools and Academies. It is intended to convey just ideas of the form and structure of the Earth, as well as of the principal phenomena affecting its outer crust, and the distribution of plants, animals, and man upon its surface. It also presents to the student the present political divisions of the earth. No traveler should fail to give this valuable work, which must be a great addition to any library of school books, his most careful perusal and consideration.

THE BLUE RIBBONS. By Anna Harriet Drury. Whittemore, Niles & Hall.

This is a very exciting story about the last century, with which children will be greatly delighted. We shall not unfold its wonders to them, but leave them to learn from the book itself, of the tricks which the strangest fairies played upon a poor little boy named Alexis—and the beautiful fairy queen whom he met in the woods, and who saved him from all his troubles.

KLOSTERHEIM, OR THE MARQUIS. By Thomas DeQuincey. Boston: Whittemore, Niles & Hall.

This novel is crowded with picturesque scenes and romantic adventures by which the imagination of the reader is kept in the utmost excitement—to have said that its author is De Quincey, is to have said that its style is brilliant and finished. The characters of this romance are not remarkable for individuality, but the situations in which they appear, are of thrilling interest, and abound with startling denouement and dramatic effects.

SAINT GILDAS; OR, THE THREE PATHS. By Julia Kavanagh: Boston, Whittemore, Niles & Hall.

Children will be delighted to learn that a pleasant little book has been written for them called Saint Gildas; or, the Three Paths. While this must persuade their parents to buy without delay, we can promise them that they will be delighted with this new book, when it is theirs.

MRS. FOLLEN'S TWILIGHT STORIES: Whittemore, Niles & Hall.

Mrs. Follen is so well known as a charming writer that no commendation will be needed to secure from the public a delighted welcome to this series of children's stories which have just appeared under the general designation: Mrs. Follen's Twilight Stories.

The titles of the six little books which compose the series are so attractive that we cannot forbear giving them: 1, Three stories about Dogs and Cats; 2, Made up Stories; 3, The Pedler of Dust Sticks; The Old Garret, part 1st; 5, The Old Garret, part 2nd; 6, The Old Garret, part 3d.

To all children we would repeat privately the good news which they will find upon the first page of each little red covered book of the six:

"If these books please the little Boys and Girls, it is the intention of the publishers to add six more to the series, making twelve in all, and forming a very pretty and useful library."

Self-Sealing Envelopes Insecure.—The examination into the charges of poisoning against Palmer, in England, elicited evidence of a circumstance that has called public attention to the insecurity of the letter envelopes known as selfsealing or adhesive. At the instance of the accused party, a postmaster had opened a letter thus sealed, shown him the contents, and resealed it without detection. This can be readily done, and detection is impossible. A London paper says:

"The influence is inauspicious, and we fear we must return to the age of sealing wax, or demand a really adhesive envelope."

We apprehend that it will be difficult to supply such a demand, as whatever means are requisite to seal it will be sufficient to unseal it.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

Transatlantic Steamships—Progress of Steam and Enterprise.

From the New York Herald.

On the 23d of April, 1838, a tremendous excitement prevailed in New York. "From an early hour in the morning until dark" (we quote the language of this journal) "myriads of persons crowded the Battery to have a glimpse of the first steam vessel which had crossed the Atlantic from the British isles and arrived safely in port; it is said that every Englishman in the city, at one time or other during the day was gazing at the dark looking vessel (the Sirius), with the American colors at the fore, and the flag of Old England at the stern. The excitement was further increased by the arrival of the Great Western from Bristol, which left that port on the 8th instant, making the passage in fifteen days,—thus solving the problem of possibility, and showing what can be done by enterprise, expenditure, courage and skill. The Sirius is, however, the pioneer. It is a singular coincidence that both vessels should have arrived on St. George's day, the patron saint of the country to which they belong."

On the 31st of March of the same year, the London papers alluded to the experiment doubtfully. "There is really no mistake," said the Times, "in this long talked of project of navigating the Atlantic ocean by steam. There is no doubt of an intention to make the attempt, and to give the experiment, as such, a fair trial. The Sirius is absolutely getting under weigh for America."

Eighteen years will soon have elapsed since these doubts were uttered, and their solution thus enthusiastically recorded. What a change! We have fourteen lines of steamers actually running between the United States and Europe, comprising no less than forty-two vessels!

Their rise and progress is curious. The Sirius and Great Western did not long enjoy a monopoly of the ocean ferry. They were quickly joined by the Royal William (which made a trip or two), the City of Liverpool, the British Queen, and President. Soon the Sirius and British Queen were sold, the President went down, and their place was taken by a new line, got up by a combination of Scotchmen and Bluenoses—an astonishing set of people for enterprise. The new line was called the Cunard line, from the leading Bluenose, and launched four steamers — the Acadia, the Caledonia, the Britannia, and the Columbia: they commenced to run about 1840, and ran from Boston and Halifax to Liverpool. In 1843, the Columbia was lost—the only vessel ever lost by the Cunard line; all the lives on board were saved.

Shortly after, a French line, consisting of four steamers, was established, but after a few trips it was abandoned. Then a Belgian line was organized and also abandoned. Soon afterward, the first American line of trans-atlantic steamers was inaugurated by the sailing of the Washington for Bremen. She was shortly after followed by the Hermann; both of which ships run still, with apparent success and profit. They were followed at an interval of four or five years by the Collins line, which launched successively, the Atlantic, Arctic, Baltic and Pacific; and are now building the Adriatic to take the place of the lost Arctic.

Latterly several new lines have been established. The American-Havre line, which was started a few years ago, having lost its two vessels—the Humboldt and Franklin—replaced them by the Arago and Fulton. Glasgow started a line of screw steamers to New York, and another line on the same plan was shortly afterwards started between Liverpool and Philadelphia, without, however, competing with the Collins or Cunard lines. Quite recently a screw line, consisting of the Minna and Brenda, has been established to run between London, Cork, and New York; they will probably be called the Corkscrews. The Cunard Company has also begun to run a line between Havre and New York; a Belgian company has launched vessels to run from Antwerp; and the French are going to run vessels with warlike names from Havre on their own account.

Although we may sum up the Ocean steam lines established between the United States and Europe in the following table:

	City of Washington	"	2,380
	City of Manchester	"	2,100

In addition to the above, a line has been established between Portland and Liverpool, in which the Sarah Sands and Canadian ran. The disasters to ocean steamships may likewise be summed up as follows:

NAMES.
President	Never heard of.
Columbia	All hands saved.
Humboldt
City of Glasgow	Never heard of.
City of Philadelphia	All hands saved.
Franklin
Arctic	A few only saved.

This bill of mortality is really very small when the total number of steamers afloat is considered. As science progresses, even this proportion will be lessened. We may hope that, when we have a hundred steamers afloat, we shall neither hear of lost vessels, nor feel excited nor anxious, with good reason, when a steamer is unduly delayed.

The Cradle of Napoleon's Future Heir.

We translate from the correspondence of the Independence Belge the following description of the cradle which the city of Paris is about to offer to the future heir of Napoleon III.:

"This cradle is a real chef d'œuvre, in the decoration of which all the arts seem to have vied with each other. It far surpasses the celebrated cradle of the King of Rome, and a description of it may not prove uninteresting to our readers.

"The cradle is in the form of a ship, which is the principal emblem in the coat of arms of the city of Paris. At the prow, a silver eagle, with wings out-spread, is in the act of flying. On the stern, the city of Paris, crowned with towers, sustains above the pillow an imperial crown of silver, to which are attached the curtains. This figure is flanked by two others representing children, the one wearing a helmet, the other a crown of olive branches, personifying Peace and War; the three statuettes are of silver, and half the size of life.

"The little vessel reposes on two supports, formed each of two miniature columns, and placed one at each end of the cradle. These supports are joined together by a long baluster. The extremeties of the supports and the baluster that joins them, are of solid silver. The body of the cradle is made entirely of rosewood, so sculptured as to receive the branches of laurel and silver ornaments that cover it almost entirely. On each side of the cradle are two medallions of blood red jasper, richly framed in silver, and destined to be wrought into emblematical devices.

"Below the rosewood hand-rail that completely surrounds the upper part of the cradle-ship, extends an open-work gallery of quaint architecture, and covered with silver ornaments. This gallery is intersected on each side by a silver cartouch bearing the ciphers of their majesties on a ground-work of enamel. From this cartouch depend garlands of silver flowers, which, descending to the middle of the ship's hull, pass below medallions of jasper, and wind, the one around the prow, the other around the stern, thus relieving the uniformity of the vessel.

"Behind the stern-house, of which the angles are adorned with winged sirens in silver, a rich silver cartouch, surrounded with branches of laurel and olive, supports the arms of the city of Paris—enameled and surmounted by the mural crown. Around these olive and laurel branches is rolled the device of the city, written in letters of gold on an enameled bandrol. The double curtains of the cradle are made of Alençon lace and blue silk, embroidered with gold."

News Summary.

.... Jackson Bradley escaped from the jail in Kershaw District, S. C., on the 18th. As he was sentenced to be hanged on the 14th of March, he can't be blamed.

.... Col. J. B. Crane, traveling through the western part of Mississippi recently, reports the tide of emigration as truly astonishing, all directed to western Texas. He enumerated as many as five thousand slaves on the road, with trains of wagons and families.

.... Among the recent importations at Boston, was one box containing three Hindoo gods from Calcutta. They were entered at the custom house as "objects of taste," valued at $3 only, and admitted duty free—probably intended for ornamenting some Hindoo council room.

.... The people of Brockport, New York, lately held an indignation meeting to denounce a church which recently expelled two ladies under circumstances calculated to injure their moral character without sufficient proof. The man who first started the report had to flee from the town to save himself from a coat of tar and feathers.

.... The Hagerstown, (Maryland) Mail gives this instructive history of one of that class of men who "can't take care of themselves:" Samuel Williams, a colored man, sold his farm near Clear Spring, last week, containing 200 acres, for $7,000. Williams was a slave at 40 years of age, bought himself, has raised twenty-five children, four of whom he bought and manumitted. He is now in his 71st year, and is a stout, tall and intelligent looking old man. He is now in independent circumstances. Most of his children are in the West, and the rest of them all desire to go to the same country, so the old man has consented, although fond of this country, "to pull up stakes" and follow them.

.... Daniel Lusk, prison-keeper in New York, has been arrested for highway robbery of Councilman Jackson. The New York officials must be in a bad way, if they rob each other in the streets.

.... Oscar S. Swift, postmaster of China, N. Y., has been detected in purloining money from letters and is under arrest. He is described as respectable, and has been in the habit of stealing from the mails for some time.

.... D. A. Potter and wife are under arrest at Boston, for sweating Spanish quarters—paring off the edges.

LATEST NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH AND MAILS.

Arrival of the Baltic!

The Baltic arrived at her dock at 11 o'clock, bringing dates to the 20th ult.

The Africa arrived out on the 18th. News very dry.

The London Times announces that the 70th regiment, and a battalion of rifles are about to be despatched to Canada, and several other regiments will follow, so as to concentrate a powerful force in that country. It is rumored, also, that almost every regiment attached to home service has received intimations that their services may be required in Canada. The money market continues extremely tight, the demand being in excess of supply.

The new loan is announced at £50,000,000, with a funding of exchequer bills to the extent £3,000,000. As these amounts have to be paid in five instalments, in the course of two months, the demand will doubtless continue active and make market more stringent. Consols improved in consequence of the announcement, 91½ but afterwards declined 90¾ and 90½, at which quotations they closed. The Rothschilds, it is said, have the whole of the new loan. There is much gossip about the Peace Conference.—Baron Breman is reported to have said that Russia is sincerely desirous of peace, but if peace be not made within three or four weeks at farthest, from the opening of the conference, serious difficulties might interfere with the final settlement of the question.

Lord Clarendon had a private interview with the Emperor, immediately on his arrival in Paris. The Duke of Norfolk is dead.

A mulatto girl was found secreted on board the ship Asterine, which arrived at Liverpool from New Orleans.

French news uninteresting. The article in the Assemblée National, touching the defensive works being constructed at Portsmouth, England, has elicited some remarks and is looked on as an exhibition of French jealousy.

AUSTRIA.—Some additional particulars of the forthcoming Austrian Amnesty had transpired, it will, with few exceptions, be unconditional, and will be made known individually to those immediately concerned. Those who choose can reassume their citizenship and be put in possession of their property at once. Those who do not choose to return immediately, may sell. Those who do neither will be considered dead and their property handed to their legal heirs.

ASIA, Jan. 28th.—Six battalions of Russians surprised a battalion of Turks near Sandide; the latter retreated leaving their baggage and guns. The Russians burned, soon after, the Pachas palace and several villages.

RUSSIA.—The Emperor's brother, grand Duke Nicholas, was married to the Princess of Oldenburgh, Alexdina Pedrowin.

Among the passengers by the Baltic are B. C. Townsend, bearer of despatches; B. E. Hughes, inventor of the new telegraph.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.—The circular of Bigland, Bro. & Co., quotes as follows: Breadstuffs since Friday have been made at irregular prices. At our market to-day there was a much improved tone and a moderate business done in wheat at Friday's quotations, for the ordinary run of red and white; the finer qualities both red and white more in demand at an advance of 1da2d for 70 lbs.

Flour in better demand and more easy to sell than on Friday though scarcely quotably dearer. Western canal is selling at 34a36s. Ohio at 37a38s. Indian Corn was sold yesterday as low as 33s6d for mixed. To-day it was freely offered with better demand, and Friday's prices easily obtained, and at the close an advance of 6d per quarter was demanded. Mixed, 33s6d a34s6d; white, 34a34s6d per 480 lbs.

Brown, Shiply & Co. quote Indian Corn 1sd lower; Wheat 1d higher; Flour unchanged and dull. Provisions—Beef—an impression prevails that we have touched the lowest. There is some inquiry for Cleveland brands at about 100s per tierce. Pork business restricted for want of stock. Bacon in demand at 51a52s for long and short, middle rib in. Cheese in moderate demand at late rates. Lard very unsettled and prices irregular; 55a56 is nearest.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 4.

SENATE.—The bill was passed appropriating $80,000 for the new fortifications at Galveston.

The Illinois election case was further considered. Mr. Stuart contended that the Constitution of Illinois renders Mr. Trumbull ineligible.

Messrs. Butler and Seward spoke to the effect that the power to elect a Senator is derived from the Constitution of the United States, and not from that of Illinois; therefore the latter has no power to proscribe the qualifications of Senators either to add, diminish or modify the requirements of the Federal Constitution.

HOUSE.—The Senate bill for the construction of ten sloops of war, was referred to the naval committee. Mr. Smith, of Alabama, presented a bill to prevent the introduction into the United States of foreign paupers and criminals. Referred to the committee on naval affairs.

The deficiency appropriation bill was passed. Among other appropriations is one of $150,000 for sick or disabled seamen. The proviso to abolish the Marine Hospitals—the Secretary of the Treasury to contract for medical treatment—after a struggle, was striken out.

Gossip.

NEW YORK, March 4.

The following is telegraphed to the Herald yesterday: A good deal of excitement was created in the cabinet to-day, by the reading of an article from the London Morning Post, of February 12th, proposing an alliance between France and England, to prevent American fillibustering.

The article proposes increasing the fleets of England and France in the vicinity of Central America, and to put in force the right of search of all suspected American vessels in the same manner as it is exercised in the case of African slavers. This is more significant from the fact that the Post is regarded here as the organ of Lord Palmerston. The Cabinet had a protracted session when the article referred to received their attention. The committee on elections had refused to hear General Whitfield in reply to Governor Reeder's statement.

An Arrest.

Wm. O'Brian was arrested this morning by the United States Marshal, on a charge of having enlisted men in Philadelphia for the Nicaraguan army, and sent them out in the Northern Light.

People's Presidential Convention.

Mr. Greeley, of the Tribune, telegraphs from Washington, that the members of Congress who stand by free Kansas, and are opposed to Mr. Fillmore for the Presidency, are considering the policy of issuing a call for the People's Presidential Convention, probably to meet at Philadelphia simultaneously or substantially so with the Republican Convention. The movement will be carefully considered, and no step taken without extensive free concert and some deliberation.

Mr. Singleton, member of the last Congress, from Mississippi, has declined the Consulate in Havana.

American Council of Massachusetts.

BOSTON, March 4.

The American Council of Massachusetts commenced a special session in this city to-day. About 300 delegates were present. The delegates to the National Convention commenced to explain their course and position in that body in regard to the nomination of the candidates for President and Vice President.

Mr. Richmond, delegate at large, after speaking in opposition to the platform, said he remained in the Convention till they nominated a man for the Presidency whom he had least expected to see nominated; one so far as he had yet been informed, was not identified with the K. N. party. He left the convention more in sorrow than in anger, for he could not be in favor of the Springfield platform, and yet support the nomination of one supposed to be opposed to that platform.

Mr. Allen, one of the District Delegates spoke in favor opposition to the nomination. He believed the protestations of the Southern delegates that they would go home and work for the election of Mr. Fillmore were insincere, and expressed the opinion that they would labor for the success of the Democratic candidate, and then sustain their Nebraska platform.

Mr. Ely said Fillmore was not his choice, and after nomination he came home dissatisfied, but on considering the whole ground, felt it his duty to support the nominations. He made some statements in reference to Fillmore's devotion to American principles, and announced his adhesion to the nomination.

Mr. J. Keith, of Dist. 4, followed in favor of endorsing the nominations. He believed that neither of the candidates would see the right of the north invaded.

The Democratic State Convention met this A. M., and after settling several contested seats and appointing a committee to select permanent officers, adjourned till P. M.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 29.

The America's news was received here to-day, and caused considerable excitement in cotton market. Sales of week 60,000 bales. Prices tending upwards.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.

Great excitement was created here on Saturday by the discovery that Col Garland, our City Treasurer was a defaulter to the amount of $200,000. He attempted to escape in an outward bound schooner but was overtaken at the Balize and brought back.

WILOUGHBY, O., March 4.

The Female Seminary at this place was destroyed by fire this morning. No persons injured.

PENSACOLA, March 1.

The frigate Potomac dropped down to the anchorage, off the Navy Yard, yesterday. She will probably leave in a week or ten days for Havana. The steamship Fulton is lying at the Navy Yard, provisioning. The corvette Saratoga arrived to-day from Havana.

Election in Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, March 4.

Chas. F. Williston was to-day elected Mayor of the city, by about 100 majority.

It has been very stormy about here for several days, and no trains have arrived from Owego or Binghamton since Saturday.

Hurrah for Utica!

UTICA, March 4.

Aleck Hubbell, Republican, probably elected Mayor by about 100 majority. Republicans elected 4 out of 6 Aldermen.

Republican Triumph in Rochester.

ROCHESTER, Feb. 4.

At our Charter election to-day Hon. S. G. Andrews was elected Mayor by 2185 majority. Mr. A. was run on the Republican and Citizens' Reform ticket. The Ward Officers elected are nearly all Anti-American by large majorities.

A New Romance by JULIA KAVANAGH, entitled, RACHEL GRAY: A TALE, FOUNDED ON FACT. By Julia Kavanagh. One vol., 12mo. Paper covers, 50 cents. Cloth, 75c. The London Journals all, with one accord, unite in giving praise to the talent displayed by Julia Kavanagh in this new Tale. The Athenæum, one of the most fastidious of critics, says: "We heartily recommend the story, and shall rejoice when Miss Kavanagh will give us another equally good." SOME OF THE OPINIONS OF THE ENGLISH PRESS. From the London Observer. "Miss Kavanagh has surpassed herself in this tale. We prefer it to her 'Nathalie' and 'Madeleine,' clever and attractive as they are." From the London Post. "'Rachel Gray' is a well-written story, full of life, passion, and sentiment, and abounding in interesting adventure." From the London Sun. "The attention is riveted by the manner in which the events are described, and the sympathy awakened by the genuine characters brought forward." For sale by KEEN & LEE, mar5 148 Lake street.

THE ONLY MEDAL AWARDED BY THE JURY OF THE NEW YORK EXHIBITION To English or Foreign Sauce Manufacturers, has been obtained, amongst numerous competitors, by LEA & PERRINS for their Worcestershire Sauce. Whereby further testimony is afforded of its being the best Sauce extant. THE CELEBRITY OF THIS SAUCE HAS extended to every quarter of the globe, and its efficacy in promoting the general health is becoming daily more observed and acknowledged. In the United States it is held to be the most agreeable condiment, and is esteemed for its tonic and invigorating properties, its habitual use enabling the stomach perfectly to digest the food. On the Continent of Europe these qualities have been testified to, by a gentleman who writes to Lea & Perrins thus: "I have carried a bottle of your Worcestershire Sauce in a tour I have just completed through Spain and Portugal, and believe I owe my present state of health to its use. Your Sauce is stomachic, and, I think, medicinal. I can with truth say there is nothing in a traveler's luggage so essential to his comfort, at least in those countries, as your Sauce." In India also, where it is found at the mess of every regiment, a medical gentleman writes from Madras to his brother in the same profession, at Worcester, in the following terms: "Tell Lea & Perrins that their Sauce is highly approved in India, and that it is, in my opinion, the most palatable as well as the most wholesome Sauce made." This Sauce is suitable for every variety of dish, and the universal demand which its excellence has created, has led to many imitations being offered to the public, under a variety of names, but the purchasers can ascertain the genuine by seeing the names of "LEA & PERRINS" being impressed upon the patent metallic cap, or patent glass stopper of the bottle, as well as the labels and wrappers. PROSPECTUS OF THE NINTH VOLUME OF THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE For the Year 1856.

GREAT INDUCEMENTS TO CLUBS!

The City of Chicago has become the Commercial Emporium of the North West, and is the ruling market of six States and Territories, embracing the great granary of North America. With a present population of nearly 100,000 souls, which doubles once in four years, Chicago is now an important centre of local news. The vast systems of Railroads and Telegraph lines terminating in it, enable its newspapers to gather intelligence from all directions with wonderful dispatch. The former necessity, or excuse, for sending to New York for papers, to get the earliest news, no longer exists. Sheets of just as ample dimensions, laden with several day's later intelligence, can now be obtained in the "New York of the West." Among these the undersigned would respectfully recommend to the public the CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

THE TRIBUNE AS A NEWSPAPER.

As a Newspaper, THE TRIBUNE is unrivalled for publishing the earliest news, and keeping its readers fully posted in current events. It has engaged the services of correspondents at all the principal news centres, besides a corps of local correspondents, who will keep it promptly informed of the progress of events nearer home. Special pains will be taken with the literary department, to make it instructive, chaste and attractive. Tales, Anecdotes and Humorous Articles, from the pens of the best writers, will appear.

THE TRIBUNE AS A COMMERCIAL PAPER.

No expense or labor is spared to make the Market Reports of the TRIBUNE reliable and satisfactory. Subscribers may depend upon finding full and correct quotations of all the leading articles offered in the Chicago Market, based on actual sales, such as Grains, Meats, Live Stock, Vegetables, Lumber, Fuel, Groceries, Hardware, Land Warrants, Money Market, &c.

But no other recommendation need be named than the fact that THIRTEEN HUNDRED Copies of the DAILY and TRI-WEEKLY Editions are mailed to merchants residing out of Chicago.

POLITICS OF THE TRIBUNE.

Believing that the spread of Liberty and not of Bondage, is the saving principle of the Republic, the TRIBUNE has enlisted into the ranks of the National Republicans, not for a campaign, but during the war. Taking the Constitution as its chart, and the immortal Declaration of Independence as its text book, it contends for the principles declared by the unanimous vote of the Fathers of the Republic in the Congress of 1787, "That Slavery or involuntary servitude is inconsistent with the fundamental principles of civil and religious liberty," and is therefore bound to insist that slavery be excluded from National Territory, and that the just influence of the National Government be exerted on the side of freedom.

The TRIBUNE is a steadfast Advocate of Education, good Morals, Temperance, Progress and Reform. On the Currency and kindred questions, it will continue to wage a war of extermination against all unsound currency and banking schemes having for their object the evasion of our laws, the avoiding of taxation, or the defrauding of the people. The TRIBUNE will treat all such frankly and fearlessly.

The TRIBUNE will utter its opinions boldly and independently on all subjects, but will do so in becoming language—avoiding personalities and scurrilous epithets towards its opponents.

EVENTS OF THE COMING YEAR.

The great year 1856 is upon us. Every thing connected with the present aspect of affairs points to it as likely to one of the most remarkable years of the present century. In that year will happen the great Presidential Election which is to decide whether Freedom or Slavery shall rule this Union; and in that year Kansas will be either admitted or rejected as a Free State; In that year the fate of Italy, Hungary, and Poland may be decided; and in that year tyranny and oppression all over the Civilized World, may either receive their death wound, or the progress of Human Rights be turned backwards for half a century. It is evident that the War between the European Powers will not be concluded till Russia shall be humbled, or the Czar shall rule the destinies of Europe.

While the TRIBUNE will be found resolutely on the side of the People and true Democracy, it will be a faithful chronicler of the great play of events, as act succeeds act and scene follows scene, whether the right be victorious or vanquished.

SIZE OF THE TRIBUNE.

With one exception the TRIBUNE is the largest sheet printed West of New York, and contains as many square inches of surface as its New York namesake. It is excellently printed on new copper face type, and clear white paper, containing 36 long, broad columns of solid reading matter.

In view of the foregoing "bill of fare," the Publishers of the Tribune respectfully solicit the Western public to give their Journal a trial for the ensuing year.

Terms of the Weekly Tribune.

Single Copy, per annum, payable invariably in advance,	[illegible]
Three Copies, " " "	5 00
Five Copies, " " "	8 00
Ten Copies, and one to getter up of Club, "	15 00
Twenty Copies, and one to getter up of Club, "	25 00
Forty Copies, to one address, per annum, "	40 00

Two copies will be sent for $3.00 until after the Presidential Election.

☞ All weeklies stopped at the expiration of the time for which they are paid.

Terms of the Tri-Weekly.

The TRI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE is published Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, in time for the Earliest Morning Mails. It is of the same size with the large Morning Daily, and each number contains all the reading matter in two Dailies. It is an excellent edition for residents in the country. It will be furnished to mail subscribers at the low price of $4.00 a year in advance, or six months for $2.00.

Terms of the Daily Tribune.

The DAILY TRIBUNE is published every morning (Sunday excepted,) in time for the earliest morning mails, at $7 00 per year, payable in advance; or six months for $4 00; or three months for $2 00.

Specimen Copies of the TRIBUNE will be sent to any person desiring them.

☞ Letters containing money if registered, may be sent through the mail at our risk. Address

Cloth, for $1.50, mailed, postage paid, on receipt of $1.25. "There is no work of art like a noble life; and he who has achieved one, takes rank with great artists. His fame is eternal. The moral influence of such a man as Lawrence is a prouder memorial than earth's millions can erect." "If the dome of the State House, which towers over his residence in Park street, had been coined into a diamond, and laid at his feet as the bribe of a dishonest transaction, he would have spurned it like the dust he trod on." [Hon. Edward Everett. Read it young men. Sold wholesale and retail by S. C. GRIGGS & CO.

ROBERT CARTER & BROTHERS, AND S. C. GRIGGS & CO., Chicago, will publish in a few days:— EMBLEMS FROM EDEN. By James Hamilton, D.D., author of "Life in Earnest," &c. 50 cents. "The emblems here treated of are the Tree of Life, the Vine, the Cedar, the Palm, the Garden inclosed, Harvest Home, and the Amaranth, or Immortality. Each of them is treated in the most instructive, evangelical and beautiful manner; and the book is admirable alike for its thoughts and its style—for the workings of an ingenious mind and the breathings of a devout and heavenly spirit."—Argus. EVENING INCENSE. By the author of the "Morning and Night Watches." 40 cents. "This little volume of prayers will be most welcome to those who practice the duty and know the pleasure of evening devotion. Each prayer has reference to some distinct object, and is beautiful alike in its language and spirit."—Presbyterian. MOORE ON HAGGAI, ZECHARIAH AND MALACHI, 8vo. $2. "This volume will do credit to our American Theological literature. It concisely gives the results of the critical investigation, without spreading out at length the steps of the process. * * The volume will be a valuable addition to the ministerial library."—Christian Intelligencer. THE GOSPEL IN EZEKIEL. By the Rev. Thos. Guthrie, D.D. 12mo. $1. "The author of this work is regarded as one of the most popular and effective preachers in Scotland; and the present volume is altogether worthy of his high reputation. It is rich in evangelical truths, presented with the manifold attractions of a glowing fervor and a graceful and impressive rhetoric. The conception of the work is, in some respects, original, while its execution evinces a mind of rare endowments and accomplishments. It is the very marrow of the Gospel served up in the most agreeable manner."—Argus. GUTHRIE'S CHRISTIAN'S GREAT INTEREST. 12mo, 50 cents. "The author of this work, who was one of the most eminent divines in Scotland, died about two centuries ago. The estimation in which it was held by his distinguished cotemporaries may be judged of from the fact that the great Dr. Owen declared that it was his 'Vade mecum;' and added, 'I have wrote several folios, but there is more divinity in it than them all.'"—Puritan Recorder. MEMOIR OF ADELAIDE LEAPU NEWTON. MEMORIALS OF CAPTAIN HEADLEY VICARS. LIFE OF JOHN M. MASON, D.D. By Dr. VanVechten. DR. HODGE'S COMMENTARY ON EPHESIANS. DR. SAMPSON'S COMMENTARY ON HEBREWS. COUSIN'S ELEMENTS OF PSYCHOLOGY. PUBLISHED BY S. C. GRIGGS & CO., ELEMENTS OF PSYCHOLOGY; included in a Critical Examination of Locke's Essay on the Human Understanding, and in additional Pieces. BY VICTOR COUSIN. Translated from the French, with an Introduction and Notes, by Caleb S. Henry, D.D. Fourth edition. Revised and enlarged. One volume, large 12mo, 568 pages. Price $1.25. The Publishers have the pleasure of bringing out, in a handsome form, a new edition of this celebrated work, revised according to the author's last corrections, and greatly improved by a number of important additions. Of the character and value of the work it is scarcely necessary to speak. Sir William Hamilton, who stands confessedly at the head of living British philosophers, pronouncing Cousin "the first philosopher of France," and declares that "to him belongs the honor of doing more himself, and contributing more to what has been done by others, in furtherance of an enlightened philosophy, than any other living individual in France or in Europe." The Edinburgh Review, not long since, speaks of Cousin as "a writer whose pointed periods have touched the chords of modern society, and thrilled through the minds of thousands in almost every quarter of the civilized world." The Examination of Locke's Essay, which makes up the principal part of this volume, is one of the best of Cousin's productions. It has been the subject of special eulogium by the most eminent authorities (including those just referred to), and is acknowledged to be an unrivaled specimen of philosophical criticism—saying, according to Mr. Morell, the learned historian of Philosophy in the nineteenth century, "all that ever need be said about the Essay on the Human Understanding," and with a "power of expression and perfect finish of style," no less remarkable than the admirable clearness of analysis. And, finally, the work is to be commended as by far the ablest, the clearest and most popular refutation of the Sensualistic Philosophy that has ever been put out, establishing the foundations of Morality and Religion against the destructive principles of Sensualism. The translation by the Rev. Dr. Henry breathes the very spirit of the original, and is imbued with all the enthusiasm of Cousin. Copies sent by mail, for examination, post paid, on receipt of the price named. Address the publishers, feb27 S. C. GRIGGS & Co., 111 Lake street.

BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, HOARSENESS.—BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES, or Cough Lozenges, are made from a highly esteemed recipe for the alleviation of Bronchial affections, Coughs, Hoarseness, Asthma, Irritation of the Throat, either Chronic, occasioned by cold or unusual exertion of the vocal organs in speaking or singing. Clergymen, Vocalists, Lawyers, and all Public Speakers will find them an admirable substitute for water in soothing the bronchial tubes, clearing the voice, and a valuable and efficient remedy. Containing no opium, they can be used as freely as required. The recipe for the Troches was originally in the possession of a clergyman who had used them with success for a Bronchial affection, attended with a severe cough—they were recommended to others who were benefited by the use of them, and now they can be obtained by Druggists generally throughout the United States.

[illegible]—Your "Bronchial Troches" seem to me a simple and elegant form for administering, in combination, several medicinal substances, held in general esteem among Physicians in the treatment of Bronchial affections, Coughs [illegible]

J. H. THOMPSON'S POMADA OPTIME AND LIQUID HAIR-DYE.—J. H. Thompson, author of "Anatomy of the Skin," "Diseases of the Hair and Skin," &c., begs to call the attention of the American people to the above celebrated articles for the toilet.

THE POMADA OPTIME is an entirely new preparation for the Hair. It contains no one article used by any other manufacturer of any compound for the hair. It contains no coloring matter or essential oils. Its splendid perfume is obtained by digesting the flowers of the Rose, Verbena, and Heliotrope, with the articles of which the Pomada is composed. By this process it will retain its magnificent scent any length of time in any climate. As an article of utility it has no rival. It will keep the skin entirely free from any unhealthy accumulation or dandruff. It excites the city and exterior secretions of the hair, and will remove and keep them in a healthy condition—thus preventing their falling off or turning prematurely grey. Ladies using this Pomada require to use no bonnet-preserver; for, if the hair is thoroughly cleansed before applying the Pomada, the head will not soil the most delicate fabric with which it may come in contact.

TESTIMONY OF MISS LOUISA PYNE.

"NEW YORK, Sept. 26, 1854.

"Mr. J. H. THOMPSON—Dear Sir: Please forward me six jars of Pomada Optime, same as you last sent. Let it be packed for traveling. I find my hair has been much improved since using your preparation, and has entirely ceased falling out. If the present improvement continues, I shall pronounce your Pomada one of the most valuable and delightful cosmetiques for the hair, and not only continue to use it myself, but recommend it to my friends.

"I am, dear sir, yours truly,

J. H. THOMPSON'S INSTANTANEOUS LIQUID HAIR DYE.

This dye is, without any exception, the best ever manufactured. Nothing sold in America or Europe, of any other make, will bear the least comparison with it. The proprietor publicly guarantees that it will dye red or gray hair to any shade of brown or black in one minute, and that so long the hair remains upon the head it will not fade or change color. It differs from all other dyes in its effect upon the fibres of the hair, as, instead of making the hair harsh, it renders the most stubborn, pliant and tractable. It is beautifully scented with violet, and will not stain the skin. The following is the

CERTIFICATE OF DR. CHILTON.

DAILY TRIBUNE

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

WILLIAM W. PECK, ... EDITOR.

Wednesday Morning, ... March 5, 1856

Municipal Election—the Result.

Below we give the result of the election and such returns as we have been enabled to procure up to the hour of going to press. The figures are of course not official and subject to changes. The entire Nebraska ticket has received a majority of all the votes cast. How this result was brought about we shall not discuss now.

The Nebraskals are of course in great glee. A bon-fire was gotten up in front of Young America, a crowd of Mr. Dyer's constituents collected in front of the Tremont House, and that gentleman and others made speeches.

There was some fighting in the fifth, seventh and ninth wards, and eight or ten arrests were made. One or two men were arrested for illegal voting out of the twelve or fifteen hundred men who voted illegally.

As near as we could ascertain the total vote cast, was:

1st Ward,	865
2d "	1238
3d "	873
4th "	675
5th "	1497
6th "	1050
7th "	1200
8th "	910
9th "	600
Total	8820

The following are the reported majorities for Mayor in each ward. These are not, of course, absolutely correct, but doubtless sufficiently so to render the election of Mr. Dyer certain.

Wards.	Dyer.	Sherman.
First,	—	341
Second,	—	241
Third,	—	86
Fourth,	84	—
Fifth,	—	147
Sixth,	49	—
Seventh,	679	—
Eighth,	234	—
Ninth,	238	—
Totals,	1275	815

This makes Mr. Dyer's majority four hundred and sixty, which is probably not very far from the returns to be made by the officers of the polls.

We learn that Mr. James Long is elected Alderman in the first ward, and Mr. Willard in the second. Both these gentlemen are Republicans. The probability is that Mr. Baldwin, Anti-Nebraska, is elected Alderman in the Third Ward, and the Anti-Nebraska Alderman in the fifth ward is also reported to be elected.

We shall endeavor to give the returns from all the wards, complete, in our issue to-morrow. The returns so far as received are as follows:

FIRST WARD.

Hiram A. Pitts vs. J. V. A. Wemple.

We republish the following in connection with the reply of the plaintiff, Mr. H. Pitts of this city.

IMPORTANT PATENT RIGHT CASE.—An important Patent Right case has been decided in the U. S. District Court, at the recent term held in this city, Judge Drummond presiding. It is the case known as "Hiram A. Pitts, vs. J. V. A. Wemple.

The suit has been in process of litigation for several years, and, after a sixth trial, has resulted in a verdict for the defendant on all the points in controversy. As the decision in this case affects other machines in exclusive use in the West, it is deserving of a more extended notice than we have yet given to it.

The suit was brought by H. A. Pitts against J. V. A. Wemple, for an infringement of Pitts' Patent Thrashing Machine. The plaintiff claimed that defendant had appropriated four distinct improvements, as follows:

1st. The construction and use of an endless apron, divided into troughs or cells.

2d. The revolving rake for shaking up the straw.

3d. The roller for throwing the straw off the machine in combination with the revolving apron above described, also the guard slats in combination with the belt.

4th. The combination of the additional seive and shoe with the elevator to carry back the light grain in the manner and for the purposes described.

It appeared in evidence that Pitts' patent was based entirely upon the peculiar construction of the apron, and that the second and third improvements alleged to have been appropriated by defendant, were in combination with the above described apron, and that if the first claim was not violated the second and third could not be.

It was also shown in evidence that the apron used by defendant in his machine was nothing more than a common elevator and different in construction and operation from the Pitts' apron, consequently there could be no infringement.

In regard to the fourth claim to the side elevator it appeared in evidence that in the Wemple machine an additional and different improvement was introduced, viz: The Threshing Cylinder to re-thrash the headings, which produced a different and important result and was not an infringement.

The Court instructed the jury in accordance with the evidence, and the jury found that the defendant, Wemple, had not infringed upon either of the patent rights claimed by the plaintiff, Pitts.

After the verdict was rendered plaintiff's counsel moved for a new trial which, after hearing the arguments of counsel on both sides—the Court overruled.

Messrs. Chickering and James of this city, and Austin of Buffalo, for plaintiff, and Messrs. Larned & Goodrich for defendant.

For the Tribune.

Reply of Mr. Pitts—Patent Right Cause.

MR. EDITOR:—I have seen in the Chicago Journal a report of the decision of the court in the case of Hiram Pitts, vs. J. V. A. Wemple said to be taken from the Tribune.

As the plaintiff in this cause I feel that it is proper for me to say a few words in relation to this report that the public may understand the true position of the parties. It would appear from the report that the case is finally disposed of and the plaintiff is beat on all the points in controversy. It is not, however, certain but that there may be yet another trial of this cause; therefore the great injustice to the plaintiff in publishing what is calculated to bias and prejudice the minds of the public against the just rights of the plaintiff in the present state of the case.

The report says, "It appeared in evidence that the Pitts patent was based entirely upon the peculiar construction of the apron, and that the second and third improvements alleged to have been appropriated by defendant were in combination with the above described apron, and if the first claim was not violated the second and third could not be.

It is true that the Court did put the same construction as reported, upon the three first claims in the Plaintiff's Patent, but the plaintiff contended that the learned Judge has misapprehended the true construction of the three first claims in the plaintiff's patent, thereby putting the case upon an issue not suggested in the patent and specification. The plaintiff contended that there was no evidence in the case tending to prove "that the Pitts' patent was based entirely upon the peculiar construction of the apron." But that the true construction must be that the claim was, only, for the construction and use of an apron divided into troughs or cells operating substantially in the way described (in the specification.)

Thus it will be seen that there is a very material difference in the construction given to this first claim by the learned Court, and that contended for by the plaintiff. The first makes the essence of the invention to consist "entirely upon the peculiar construction of the apron," but the last makes the essence of the invention to consist, only, in the application of an apron divided into troughs or cells operating substantially in the way described, (in the specification.)

It must be borne in mind that the only evidence upon this point, must be contained in the patent, and if that does not justify the construction it will be erroneous.

The evidence upon this point given in the specification is as follows:

"The endless apron which is to conduct to the grain and the straw, is peculiar in its construction; slats of wood united by endpieces are glued or otherwise fastened on to cloth or leather, they are so fastened that the endpieces are in contact, thus forming a crisis of troughs which receive and carry the grain forward until it falls upon the winnowers.

The claim for this improvement is in the words following: The patentees say, "we claim as our invention the construction and use of an endless apron divided into troughs or cells in a machine for cleaning grain, operating substantially in the way described.

The plaintiff contended that the patentees did not claim the "peculiar construction" of the apron, as their improvement; but on the contrary that the word "peculiar" in the specification, is merely used in connection with other words in describing the manner of making the apron used by the patentees to conduct of the grain and the straw; therefore ought to be treated only as any other descriptive word; and that it was wrong to rest the plaintiff's invention entirely upon this descriptive word "peculiar," or upon the other descriptive words in connection with it, to wit: "peculiar in its construction."

The patentee is always bound to describe the best way to construct the agent he uses to produce the result proposed; but he is not confined to the particular or the peculiar construction of the agent, when the construction specified does not begin and end in form alone; so would be the case, with the manufacture of a sphere, or a cube, for the first time; and as is the case, with all manufactures, the utility and advantage and proposed object of which depend on form. But where there is a purpose that does not begin and end in form alone, where the form is but the means to accomplish a result of a certain character which remains the same, though a certain range of variations of those means, the invention is independent of form and arrangement, to this extent, that it embraces every application of means which accomplishes the result without changing the principle of the invention. In machinery, the principle of the invention consists in producing a certain effect by the application of motion, though a form of apparatus adapted to that result." The patentees of the plaintiff's patent described the best form of apparatus, known to them at that time to conduct of the grain and the straw, and stated particularly how they constructed it; they stated also that it formed an endless apron of troughs or cells and the way they constructed the apron was peculiar, but the plaintiff contended that the patentees no where claim the peculiar mode of constructing their apron, in any part of their letters patent. But that the true construction is, that they claim only, the right to construct and use an endless apron divided into troughs or cells in a machine for cleaning grain, operating (but not particularly constructed) substantially in the way described.

This same claim in the plaintiff's patent has received the construction of other courts, and the following is the construction given by the two learned Judges Ware and Story, in Pitt v. Whitman, 2 Story R. 609. Mr. Justice Ware said in construing this claim for the endless apron, that "the true construction must be, that (the patentees) claimed it only, in a machine for cleaning grain, operating substantially in the way described; and that their claim was good and valid as the inventors of its application to such a machine in the manner described."

Mr. Justice Story said—"I am of opinion that the construction thus given by the learned Judge of the claim of the patentees in the specification is the true one; what is the language of the specification? we claim as an invention the construction and use of an endless apron, &c, operation substantially in the way described; that is, described in the specification." It is therefore clear, that it was a claim of an endless apron of troughs or cells combined with a particular threshing machine described in the specification.

There is no evidence therefore in the specification as we have seen, nor is there any in the language of "Ware and Story," in Pitts v. Whitman that confirms this first claim to the "peculiar construction of the endless apron;" but on the other hand, it is clear that the claim is limited to the use of an apron divided into cells, operating substantially in the way described. In Pitt v. Whitman, the two learned Judges were both asked by the defendant's counsel, to confine this first claim to the peculiar construction of the apron, this will be seen by the 4th instruction asked and refused; the counsel for the defendant contended that, if the claim of the plaintiff to the construction and use of an endless belt with troughs or cells, embraces any other form substantially of construction than the one by him particularly specified, the claim in that case would be too broad and the action could not be sustained. This instruction the Judge declined to give—for which cause also the defendant moves for a new trial.

Mr. Justice Story said, "that this instruction asked and refused was objectionable in several respects. It proceeds upon the assumption of the existence of facts which it was no part of the duty of the Court to assume or affirm. It undertakes to put a construction upon the invention as claimed by the patentees, which is not correct. It separates the endless belt of cells from the other machinery with which it was combined, as though it were claimed as a distinct invention, and not in combination, and asks the Court to give an instruction founded upon that supposition."

Thus it is seen that Ware & Story refused to entertain any instructions asked, that went to confirm the invention of the patentees to the peculiar construction of their apron, showing clearly that in their judgment the claim was not for the "peculiar construction."

The learned judge in Pitts vs. Wemple has confined the plaintiff's invention to form alone; in other words to the "Peculiar construction of the Apron." But this we have seen is not the claim of the patentees, but the claim is in other words, to-wit: "For the use of an Apron dividing into troughs or cells operating substantially in the way described." The Court has substituted the words "peculiar construction" for that of "operating," which last is the language in the claim. This is the error into which the Court has fallen, as the plaintiff contended in his argument.

The report says: "It was also shown in the evidence that the Apron used by the defendant in his machine was nothing more than the common elevator." Upon this point it is only necessary to say that this is the substance of the claim in the plaintiff's patent. The patentees describe the Apron in its construction and operation as an elevator only; the evidence therefore proved that defendant used the Apron substantially as described and claimed in the patent.

Again, the report says, that after the sixth trial a verdict was rendered for the defendant, but does not state that the plaintiff has got one verdict in his favor in process of the litigation referred to.

In relation to the second and third claims the plaintiff contended that the true construction of the second was for the revolving rakes for shaking out the Straw, in combination with such a revolving Apron, as set forth; that this claim covered the improvement specified in the claim as it did also the combination. The Apron and the Rake are the agents combined to produce the result specified substantially in the way described in the specification, and that any substitute for the rake or the apron which produced the same result in the machine without changing the principle of the invention, would be in substance and in law the same thing.

The Court, however, confined this invention, as his honor did the first claim, to the "Peculiar construction of the Apron;" the third claim was disposed of in the same way.

The patentees were more than three years in studying and experimenting upon their machine before they completed their invention; it is the first successful one of the kind ever made in this or any other country. They obtained a patent which they supposed covered their whole invention; but it seems by the report of this case, that "the Pitts patent was based entirely upon the peculiar construction of the Apron." The plaintiff contended, and he yet contends, that this is not the true construction of the invention claimed in the patent.

MONETARY AND FINANCIAL.

Money Market.

OFFICE OF R. K. SWIFT, JOHNSTON & CO.,
Chicago, March 4, 1856.

The Money Market has been more active during the past week than for some time previous. The demand for discounts has been large and bankers are not fully supplying the wants of their customers.

There is more paper offering in the streets than for some time past and out side rates are firm at two per cent per month.

Short rate paper on New York is scarce, as there is no immediate prospect of the opening of navigation.

Secured paper is in moderate supply. Twelve months paper sells at from 15 to 20 per cent discount.

Coupon bonds are rather slow sales. A few sales have been made within the past week, at par.

Exchange on New York is in very fair supply and fully equal to the demand which is moderate. Rates continue steady and unchanged.

Exchange on St. Louis is fully equal to the demand which is very great.

Currency continues in fair supply and of considerable quantity.

Exchange on London is firm at 109½ in N. Y.

The amount of Georgia money now in circulation is very limited. It has been said that the absence of this currency causes exchange to be scarce. We can see no foundation for this assertion, as those bankers issuing this money, must have had exchange on hand before they could sell it even for their own notes and do not even hear of these bankers having any to spare. In regard to redemption, the banks of this State should redeem these bills in Chicago, in gold at a discount of say one half per cen. This would keep us clear of Wild Cat, both native and foreign, and place Illinois currency in the position which it should naturally occupy. This is a matter which we always have and always will urge upon country bankers.

QUOTATIONS AS FOLLOWS:

Banker's Rates—10 per cent. for 30 days and under payable here, and 60 days payable in New York.
Brokers' Rates—from 2@2½ ₩ cent. payable here, and 1@3 ₩ payable in New York for 60 to 90 days.
Secured Paper—first class 6 to 12 months, 15@20 ₩ cent. second class 20@25.
Coupon Bonds—payable in New York bearing interest 10 ₩ cent. ₩ annum—selling at 95@100.

EXCHANGE.

On New York,—fair supply, moderate demand. buying ½ ₩ cent., selling ¾ ₩ cent. premium for currency, and for Eastern ½ ₩ cent.; for Gold ¼ ₩ cent.
Boston, Philadelphia, and Baltimore selling ¾ ₩ cent.
St. Louis buying ½ ₩ cent., selling ¾ ₩ cent.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE, STATE OF ILLINOIS,
Springfield, Feb. 20th, 1856.

WHEREAS, The Atlantic Fire and Marine Insurance Company, located at Providence, in the State of Rhode Island, has filed in this office a statement of the condition of its affairs, as required by "An act to regulate the agencies of Insurance Companies not incorporated by the State of Illinois," approved February 17, 1855; and whereas said Company has furnished satisfactory evidence that it is possessed of the required amount of capital, invested in stocks and mortgages, and has filed in this office a written instrument, signed by the President and Secretary thereof, appointing W. B. Lounsbury, of Chicago, its agent for the transaction of the business of said Company, and fully and unreservedly authorizing him to acknowledge service of process for and on behalf of said Company, consenting that service of process upon him, the said agent, shall be taken and held to be as valid as if served upon the Company, and waiving all claim of error by reason of such service.

NOW, THEREFORE, In pursuance of the provisions of the act aforesaid, I, Thos. H. Campbell, Auditor of Public Accounts of the State of Illinois, do hereby certify that the said W. B. Lounsbury, is authorized as an agent for the said company, to transact the business of Insurance in this State, until the thirty-first day of January, in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, so far as he may be legally empowered so to do by said company.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name, and affixed the seal of my office, at Springfield, this 20th day of February, A.D. 1856.

THOS. H. CAMPBELL, Auditor P. A.

THE GREATEST

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

Of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, OF ROXBURY, HAS discovered, in one of our common pasture weeds, a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor). He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing in the pastures, and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system; yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There are no ifs nor ands, hums nor ha's about it suiting some cases and not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to a sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh, and dizziness. Some who have been costive for years, have taken and been regulated by it. Where the body is sound, it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings, but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it. On the contrary when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that man ever listened to. No change of diet is necessary—eat the best you can get. I have likewise an herb, which, when simmered in sweet oil, dissolves Scrofulous swelling of the neck and under the ears. Price 50 cents.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adult, one table-spoonful per day. Children over eight years, desert-spoonful; directions can be made applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

MR. KENNEDY gives personal attendance in bad cases of Scrofula.

Wholesale Dealers in Chicago.—Brinckerhoff & Penton, J. H. Reed & Co., Ray & Baldwin, F. Scammon & Co., Sawyer, Paige & Co., Barclay & Brother.

Price $1. Manufactured by DONALD KENNEDY, 120 Warren street, Roxbury.

A liberal discount made to those who buy to sell again. Apothecaries, &c., who would like to act as agents will please send in their orders.

BURR & CO.,

Late Burr, Waterman & Co.,

Manufacturers of Waterman & Russell's

Patent Iron Strap Blocks,

BEG TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF SHIP Masters and Owners to these superior Blocks. The peculiarity of these Blocks consists in the Strap passing through the inside of the shell instead of running around the outside, thus making it the neatest and strongest block made, as the stain is entirely on the strap and pin, instead of on the strap. The Blocks is very easily kept in order, as by simply backing out the pin, the sheave can be drawn, cleaned and replaced in a few moments. Wherever these blocks have been used they have been highly approved of.

For prices and terms, apply to BURR & CO.,

Proposals for Stone.

SEWERAGE COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE,
Chicago, Ill., Feb. 28th, 1856.

FOR THE PURPOSE OF ASCERTAINING the economy of substituting stone for brick in the upper portions of the five foot circular sewers for the City.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office, until noon, on the 28th day of March next, for 120,000 cubic feet, of sound and durable arch stones, not less than eight inches deep, and dressed sufficiently to admit of being laid in courses on centering, good mortar joints, not over three quarter of an inch thick.

No allowance for more than eight inches in depth will be made in the measurement.

Delivery of stone to be at such points on the River bank, between Chicago Avenue, Van Buren street, and the harbor piers, as the Commissioners shall determine.

Proposals will state the earliest day to commence delivery and how soon the whole quantity will be delivered.

Each proposal to be endorsed "Proposals for Stone." Satisfactory security for the faithful performance of all contracts will be required.

The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any proposal at their discretion.

By order of the Board.

Sale of Fort Dearborn Buildings,

AND OF THE OLD STEAM DREDGE.

OFFICE GENERAL SUPERINTENDENCE OF LAKE MICHIGAN WORKS,
Chicago, Feb. 22d, 1856.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED at this office until the thirty-first day of March, proximo, at noon, for the purchase from the United States, and removal within twenty days thereafter, from the Fort Dearborn reservation, of the following buildings and old steam Dredge Boat, viz:

No. 1. The old brick house, formerly officers' quarters, 40 by 35 feet.

No. 2. The old wooden building east of the above, formerly officers' quarters, 50 by 20 feet.

No. 3. The old wooden officers' and soldiers' barracks, immediately south of No. 1, 80 by 28 feet.

No. 4. The old wooden officers' and soldiers' barracks, immediately south of No. 2, 80 by 28 feet.

No. 5. The old wooden carpenters' shop, formerly officers' quarters, south of No. 4, size 40 by 20 feet.

No. 6. The old wooden house, built of hewn logs, 29 by 29 ft.

No. 7. The old brick magazine, standing near the block house, 15 by 15 feet.

No. 8. The hulk and machinery and all the appurtenances of the old steam dredge boat, lying hauled up north-east of No. 4. (This is not the dredge boat now used for dredging the Lake Michigan Harbors.)

The bids must be specified in writing, with the bidder's name and residence, for each item separately. Terms cash: to be paid on notification that the bid is accepted; and the buildings or dredge boat, with the hulk of old steam dredge, to be removed by the purchaser clear off the Fort Dearborn reservation grounds within twenty days from the date of acceptance of the bid or bids, otherwise to revert back to the United States, without any restoration of the amount paid.

Address through Chicago post office, in writing, endorsed "Proposals for Public Buildings." Several bids by the same person may, at his option, be contained in the same written communication.

PROPOSALS FOR BRICK AND DRAINAGE PIPES.

Sewerage Commissioners' Office,
Chicago, Ill., Feb. 19, 1856.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED till noon on the 28th day of March next, for SIX MILLIONS of thoroughly burnt BRICKS, of the ordinary form and size; and for FOUR MILLIONS, similar in quality and in size, but wedge formed, to adapt them to a two foot barrel drain.

Also, at the same time and place, for SIXTY THOUSAND FEET of thoroughly burnt, smooth and glazed cylindrical Drain PIPES, fifteen inches in diameter; and an equal quantity of similar form and quality, twelve inches in diameter. Each pipe is to be accompanied by a ring or collar for the joint, four inches long, of equal thickness and strength to that of the pipe. Ones to receive feet the pipes must be furnished with curved junctions for six inch house drains. The collars and junctions, must be included in the price per foot for the pipes. Detailed drawings may be seen at this office.

Specimens of the Bricks and Pipes, must, if possible, be deposited with the Commissioners; but, if not, full descriptions of their size and qualities, must be substituted.

Proposals will be received from any one party for less than 200 thousand bricks, or ten thousand feet of pipe.

Those proposing to furnish more than two millions of bricks, or thirty thousand feet of pipe, are requested to state, at what rates they would furnish these amounts, and other quantities, less than the greatest amount they propose for.

Parties are requested to state the earliest day they can begin to deliver bricks or pipes, and how soon the whole amount proposed for, will be furnished.

Each Proposal to be endorsed "Proposals for Brick," or "Pipe."

Satisfactory Security for the faithful performance of all contracts will be required.

The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any proposal, at their discretion.

By order of the Board.

CHARLES M. DUPUY & Co.,

LAND AGENTS,

Cor. Michigan Avenue and Water street,

(Near the Ill. Cent. R. R. Depot.)

CHICAGO, ILL.,

For the Purchase and Sale of Farms, Unimproved Lands and Town Lots in Illinois, Iowa, and adjoining States.

AN EXTENSIVE CONNEXION AND General Eastern Advertising will make this Agency a Central Point, at which buyers looking to the West will find it their interest to procure information and make selections.

Owners of Real Estate

Will be particularly benefited by placing their lands with us for sale, as property is often sacrificed from the fact that its market value is unknown out of its immediate neighborhood.

Capitalists will find favorable opportunities of realizing large returns by investing in rapidly improving Western property.

Catalogues will be published from time to time, containing descriptions of property for sale. These will be delivered to applicants, gratis, or forwarded to any part of the country.

Property offered for sale will, for a small sum, be entered in our Catalogue and circulated gratis all over the country.

Buyers of the Illinois Central Railroad Lands can avail themselves of the knowledge and experience of the late Land Agent of the Company to supply the difficulty of making judicious selections.

Particular attention given to the Payment of Taxes, Locating Warrants, Examining Land, and to a General Land Agency business.

To facilitate the sale of lands extensive arrangements are being made with responsible Local Land Agents.

Parties at a distance wishing information or desiring to purchase, by addressing us may depend upon faithful and prompt attention.

RAILROAD LANDS IN ILLINOIS FOR SALE.

160 acres in Grundy County, 3½ miles from the Morris Station, on the C. & R. I. R. R.

240 acres in Will County, half a mile from Elwood, on the C. A. & St. Louis R. R.

160 acres in Vermillion County, from 5 to 7½ miles from Gardiner, on the C. A. & St. Louis R. R.

160 acres in Livingston County, from 5½ to 6 miles from Gardiner, on the C. A. and St. Louis R. R.

200 acres in Livingston County, 7½ miles from Dwight, on the C. A. and St. Louis R. R.

No better lands can be found any where than those designated above. The soil is two feet of black loam and one of yellow, both mixed with sand and small limestone, being an excellent wheat soil. Beneath these soils is a bed of clay of unknown thickness.

Nearly the whole of these lands are either finely undulating or high rolling prairie.

I will sell, in lots of not less than 160 acres, for either cash or on credit.

The undersigned may be seen for a few days, at the Tremont House, in Chicago; or letters addressed to him, at Odell Post office, Livingston County, Ill., will receive prompt attention.

As the lands are his own, no delay for reference to principals will occur in effecting a sale.

A RARE CHANCE FOR A FARM.—ANY Person desiring to purchase a Farm in the West, cannot do better than to purchase a Farm of 180 acres, situated in Racine County, State of Wisconsin, being twelve miles N. W. of the city of Racine, and eleven miles S. W. of the city of Milwaukee, both of which are important Shipping Ports, and best markets in the West for Produce.

Said Farm has about 160 acres, under the plough, and the balance in meadow and pasture lands, with 20 acres of timber. It has a fine stream of never failing water, running directly through, and several fine springs of water, equal to one in every field.

There is a good farm house, and two good barns and first rate fences made of oak rails upon the farm. The county is as good as can be found. There is a good school within half a mile, and two churches within two miles.

It is said by those best acquainted in the neighborhood to be one of the best farms in Racine County.

There is no exaggeration in the statements here made, and there is not the least doubt about its being one of the most profitable investments in Wisconsin.

The terms can be made quite easy, with a small payment in advance, and balance for nine years, if desired.

Any person wishing to see the farm can get further information, by calling on Clark & Pickering, 8 Wells street, Chicago; or H. Warner & Co., 111 Main street, Racine.

H. W. Andress & Co.,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN ENGLISH, French and American Wall and Curtain Paper, Borders, &c., No. 67 Randolph street, Chicago, Illinois.

The attention of the Western Trade is respectfully solicited to the styles and patterns of Paper Hangings, comprised in our extensive stock, the prices of which are unexceptionably low, and embracing almost innumerable designs, of every quality and price, for the Trade of 1856, among which we mention Blanks of every description, Grounds, Satins, Gilts, Flocks, Mouldings, Gold and Velvet Borders, Statuary, Ornaments, Views, Fire-Board Prints, and Decorations of every style.

Also, 36 inch Plain Paris Green, Double Satin 30 inch Green and Satin, and Common Paper Curtains—which we are selling at Eastern prices, with the addition of the cost of transportation only.

In addition to our own manufacture, we are the Western Agents for several of the leading Manufacturing Houses, giving us the most complete and extensive assortment west of the Eastern Markets, and enabling us to offer superior inducements to the Trade than any other House in the Great West.

Orders by Mail will be executed with the same fidelity and dispatch as though parties were purchasers in person.

Taking everything into consideration, we candidly believe it to be more to the interest of every Western Dealer to order through us, than from any other source. We therefore invite generally, to examine our Stock and Prices before giving orders to any other parties.

Booksellers, Druggists and Merchants,

Constantly on hand, in quantities for the Western trade, the productions of Bigelow & Co., Faye & Co., C. O. Andrews, Bumstead & Co., Howell & Brothers, F. & C. Andrews, Christy & Constant, Hart, Montgomery & Co., L. Beirous, and others.

LIFE AND DEATH;
—THE—
Mysteries of Disease laid open to the People.
Health is the Principle of Life; Disease is the Principle of Death.

THE R. R. R. REMEDIES POSSESS THE GREAT POWER TO SECURE TO THE HUMAN SYSTEM HEALTH AND LONG LIFE, AND TO FREE THE HUMAN FAMILY FROM PAINS, ACHES, AND ALL BODILY INFIRMITIES.

THE ART OF PRESERVING HEALTH AND THE METHOD OF CURING DISEASE BY THE R. R. R.'S

Radway's Ready Relief,

Is to be used in all cases where there is pain. The moment it is applied externally, or taken internally, it will allay the most torturing aches, pains, cramps, spasms, burns, scalds, &c., quicker than Morphine, Chloroform, Veratrine, or any other anodyne or remedy that has ever been used by medical men.

It is safer than these dangerous remedies. The public will bear in mind that Chloroform, Morphine, Opium, &c., only stifle the pain by stupifying the senses, or blunt the perceptive faculties, and the power of feeling; and that after the influence of these narcotics have passed from the system—the pain again breaks forth with its terrible pangs, with renewed violence.

Radway's Ready Relief stops the pain, and removes the cause of the disease that occasions it; it infuses new life into the weak and diseased parts. It braces up the nerves, and establishes in the system a reaction of health and strength, in place of pain, weakness and disease.

As a counter irritant, Radway's Ready Relief applied to the surface of the body, where there is inflammation or congestion, it will instantly scatter the congested blood, equalise the circulation, and in a few minutes the most excruciating pains are removed. This may be seen in cases of Lumbago, Gout and Rheumatism, in their most terrible forms, where an application of Radway's Ready Relief will restore the patient to ease and comfort.

Crippled with Rheumatism, Arm and Leg perished—No hopes of his recovery—Timely use of R. R. R.—A wonderful Cure.

LETTER FROM ISAAC HUDDLESTONE.

Rapids Parish, La., June 19th, 1855.

Messrs. Radway & Co.—Radway's Ready Relief has cured Peter May of Rheumatism, when there was no hope of his ever recovering. I heard of his situation, and sent for him. His right arm and leg was all perished. He had no use of them at all; but by the use of your medicine, in two months he was carrying the mail from Cherryville to Burr's Ferry. I objected. He said he must do something for a living. It has been fourteen months since he was cured. He is now well, and is working on his farm, and the whole cost of his cure for your medicine was five dollars.

ISAAC HUDDLESTONE.

Radway's Regulators.

We here direct the attention of the public to our newly discovered remedy—RADWAY'S REGULATORS; they possess the great curative powers of a Purgative, cathartic, aperient, sudorific, anti-dyspeptic, corrector and Regulator of the system. They are, in fact, the only perfect purgative or cathartic remedy that has ever been discovered or given to the world.

Radway's Regulators will answer a better purpose than Calomel or Mercury, without entailing on the system the terrible injuries of these baneful drugs.

They are in the form of Pills, elegantly coated with gum, perfectly tasteless, and can be taken without sickening or nauseating the patient. They are to be used in all cases when the system is OUT of ORDER, or under the influence of disease. One or two doses of Radway's Regulators has frequently checked the progress of the most terrible diseases and restored the system to health and regularity.

They establish new and improved principles of medicine, and secure the great and important power of regulating to a healthy, natural and harmonious action, each and every organ in the body. This great controlling power has never formed any part of the properties of the popular Cathartic, Vegetable or Indian Purgative Pills, that have ever been in use.

Radway's Regulators rid the system from disease and restore the human body to health, on an entirely different principle to the weakening, sickening, and griping method of the common cathartic and purgative pills.

One or two of Radway's Regulators will remove the cause that occasions pain or sickness, or an irregular or unnatural action or condition of the organs of the body, quicker, more effectual, and with less trouble to the patient than six or ten of the common cathartic or purgative pills. The moment Radway's Regulators are taken into the system afflicted with disease, their equalizing efficacy begins; they search out the elements of disease wherever it may be seated; they act upon the whole surface of the intestines and bowels, stimulating the foul and morbid humors from the blood, glands, secreting vessels, and expelling these seeds of disease from the body, restoring a healthy and regular action to the Liver, Bowels, Pancreas, Heart, Kidneys, Bladder, Skin, and all other Viscera.

THE BOWELS.

All of the common pills of the day, called Vegetable, Indian, Cathartic, &c., claim that they cure disease by purging from the bowels. This is as far as they go—they act upon the bowels by irritating the mucuous membrane, and thus obtain an evacuation in the same manner as the bowels are moved by eating something that disagrees with the system. This is truly an unnatural method of restoring the system to health, by swallowing pills that disagree with and irritates it. Those who have taken these common pills are well aware of the weak and debilitated condition their systems are left in. After the scouring operation of these drastic purgatives is over, the bowels are sore and feeble, and again become costive and bound up. Hence arise dyspepsia and a host of diseases. Radway's Regulators never leave the bowels in a costive condition, or occasion pain or weariness in their operation.

No. 1

Diseases and complaints caused by Exposure and Atmospherical Changes, over which Radway's Ready Relief and Radway's Regulators possess the most remarkable curative powers, and which will readily yield to the R. R. treatment.

COLDS AND FEVERS.

When the system is first seized with a sudden cold, or a fever sets in, a dose of from three to six of Radway's Regulators should be taken—this is all the medicine, at this stage of the disease that is required, in a few hours the system will be restored to sound health. But if the cold and fever is neglected, and coughs, headaches, colds, chills, pains and aches in the limbs, joints, muscles, bones, side and back, sore throat, hoarseness, difficult breathing, following the cold and fever—then Radway's Ready Relief should be applied externally, and a good dose of the Regulator taken. As soon as the Relief is applied, a reaction will take place, and in a few hours the patient will be free from all pain or annoyance.

If these signs of the presence of disease in the system are unnoticed, and violent fevers break out, in the form of Billious, Typhoid, Scarlet, Ship Fever and other malignant fevers, such as Pneumonia, Lung Fever and Brain Fever, a more rigid treatment becomes necessary. The Regulators should be given every four hours, in large doses of from four to six, and free and copious discharges from the bowels are obtained. The Relief applied will produce a salutary effect upon the skin, and, taken in water, will abate the fever.

If inflammation or congestion take place, Radway's Regulators and Ready Relief should be taken in large doses. A cure will quickly follow their use. In cases of Billiousness or Malignant Billious Fever, or Billious Pneumonia, Radway's Regulators, given in full doses, and the whole surface of the body bathed with Radway's Ready Relief, will effectually and speedily cure the patient.

IN RHEUMATISM,

Attacking the joints and limbs, inflicting its terrible piercing pangs of pain with merciless rapidity—changing about from joint to joint and from limb to limb, Lumbago, Neuralgia, or Gout afflicts, Radway's Ready Relief applied to the parts where the pain is felt, will quickly relieve you from its excruciating pangs. Radway's Regulators will expel from the intestines all irritable and corrupt humors.

SMALL POX, SCARLET FEVER AND MEASLES.

Radway's Ready Relief is not only a cure for these infectious maladies, but will prevent those who use the Ready Relief and Regulators from catching the infection.

We have known the R. R. Relief rid whole neighborhoods of the infection of Small Pox and Scarlet Fever. We have likewise known shipmasters who have saved the lives of their crews and passengers, and entirely driven away the Small Pox and Ship Fever from their vessels, by sprinkling the Ready Relief through their infected ships. It is astonishing what happy effects the Ready Relief will have if freely sprinkled in places where these contagious and infectious poisons prevail.

We will guarantee that if those who are now suffering with fever and ague, or its effects, will place their systems under the influence of Radway's Ready Relief and Regulators, to cure them entirely of this distressing malady, and to free them from the fever of ague that is now lingering in their systems, and to render their bodies ague proof against renewed attacks. Those now suffering from enlargements of the Spleen, Enlargements of the Liver, and other organic enlargements, are promised speedy deliverance from their miseries by the R. R. Relief and Regulators.

We now direct the attention of the public to our second discovery for the cure of chronic disease.

No. II.
R. R. RESOLVENT.
HUMORS—CHRONIC DISEASES.

Diseases that have been lingering in the system for a length of time, tainting the blood with impurities and covering the body with sores and ulcers; diseases inherited by hereditary descent, or contracted by inoculation, or transmitted by other diseases; over all of which said diseases and disorders in this second class,

RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT
Possesses the most positive curative powers.

THIS ALL POWERFUL REMEDY

Has performed miracles in the way of cures. It has made persons sound and whole, whose flesh was one mass of corruption, and who were so disfigured by disease as to render them objects repulsive to the sight.

HUMORS—BAD BLOOD.

Chronic Diseases, Scrofulous and Syphilitic Complaints, Consumption, and other affections of the Lungs and Throat, indurations and Organic Enlargements, Chronic Rheumatism, Glandular Swellings, Hacking Dry Cough, Cancerous Affections, Bleeding of the Lungs, Dyspepsia, Water Brash, Tic Doloreux, White Swelling, Tumors, Ulcers, Hip Diseases, Female Complaints, Gout, Rickets, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint.

AND ALL ERUPTIVE DISEASES.

The moment a dose of the Resolvent is taken into the system infected with disease, the patient experiences the most delightful sensations, for new life is coursing through every vein and tissue of the body—enriching and purifying the blood—and casting out all morbid, corrupt and loathesome humors.

The Renovating Resolvent is a positive cure for all chronic complaints. It has made whole and sound those who had suffered the most terrible torture disease could inflict upon the system. Let those who have tried other treatments and are still uncured, give the Resolvent a trial—it will cure you. Price one dollar per bottle.

Sold by Druggists, Merchants, and Storekeepers everywhere.

Sawyer's Fluid Extract of Bark
AN INFALLIBLE REMEDY FOR THE FEVER AND AGUE,
And the Various Forms of
BILLIOUS DISEASES,
Intermittent, Remittent, Chill Fever and DUMB AGUE,
Having their origin in Malaria of very fertile or marshy districts.

PREPARED BY DR. S. SAWYER, AND sold by SAWYER, PAIGE & CO., Druggists and Chemists, 123 Lake street, Chicago.

This remedy is prepared entirely from vegetable substances and contains no mercury, arsenic, or anything that can prove injurious to the system. Its effects are those of a deobstruent and tonic, well adapted to restore the healthy action of the stomach, whose functions are so generally impaired in this class of diseases.

Quinine and other tonics, serve only in many cases to break the chills, but do not remove the disease of the liver and other organs, implicated on which the chill and fever depend; hence the usefulness of the "Fluid Extract of Bark," (particularly in regions where physicians cannot be readily consulted), which contains all the qualities suited to the indications of these maladies.

Hundreds of testimonials in regard to the efficacy of the medicine from persons of respectability, have been given to the proprietor—but he does not make use of them, as he prefers to have the medicine introduce itself solely by its merits. Price $1 per bottle. 6 bottles for $5.

KENOSHA WATER CURE.

THIS INSTITUTION HAS BEEN IN SUCCESSFUL operation the past two years. It has undergone thorough repairs outside and in. An entire new set of Bath Rooms have been added, and are on the same floor with the Patient's Rooms. It has connected with it all the modern improvements of the Hydropathic practice. From its natural advantages, pure air, and soft water, the success and reputation that Dr. Seeley has attained, and his eight years' practical experience, induces the Proprietors to believe their Institution is unrivalled.

Fistulas cured without the knife, and warranted. The Cure is but two hours ride from Chicago by the Lake Shore Railroad. Address H. T. SEELEY, M.D., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

FILTERS! FILTERS!—KEDZIE'S RAIN WATER FILTERS will purify Lake, River or Rain Water, however muddy or discolored it may be, and render it perfectly pure, clear and sweet, for drinking and cooking. They have taken the premium at several State Fairs; and the Fall, at our own State Fair, were universally approved.

For capacity, durability and cheapness, they are unequalled by any Filter known, and are within the reach of every family, who, if they will pay the health promoting luxury of pure drinking water.

They are for sale at No. 79 Dearborn street, opposite Young America, and at No. 213 Madison street, by F. B. WARNER, General Western Agent.

ON MANHOOD,
And Its Premature Decline.

JUST PUBLISHED, GRATIS, THE TWENTIETH Thousand—A few words on the Rational Treatment, without Medicine, of Spermatorrhea or Local Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Impotency, and Impediments to Marriage generally,

BY B. DE LANEY, M. D.

The important fact that the many alarming complaints, originating in the imprudence and solitude of youth, may be easily removed without medicine is in this small tract clearly demonstrated; and the entirely new and highly successful treatment as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis and post free, in a sealed envelope, by remitting (post paid) two postage stamps to Dr. DE LANEY, 17 Lispenard street, New York City.

HESLER'S
Daguerreotype, Photograph & Fine Art Gallery,
Nos. 22, 24, 25 and 27, Metropolitan Block, Lasalle street.

THE SUBSCRIBER TAKES PLEASURE and pride in being able to announce to the public that his magnificent establishment is now in complete and successful operation, and CHICAGO CAN NOW BOAST OF THE MOST EXTENSIVE AND BEAUTIFUL PHOTOGRAPHIC GALLERY IN THE WORLD—fitted up at a COST OF TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS. It contains all that is new and useful in the Photographic Art. The Light and the arrangements for the production of the finest Gems of Life and Beauty, are arranged on the most approved AND SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLE, and are the result of YEARS of untiring labor and study. The success of the UNRIVALLED PICTURES produced are abundantly ATTESTED BY THE PRAISES OF THE PUBLIC, and the awards of the HIGHEST PRIZES in every Fair or Place wherever these Pictures have been exhibited.

EVERY STYLE OF PHOTOGRAPHIC PICTURES is here produced in its highest perfection. HESLER'S DAGUERREOTYPES are too well known to require a word of mention. HESLER'S CRYSTALOGRAPHS, or Daguerreotypes on glass, by some called "Ambrotypes," and claimed to be unperishable, are here taken in their highest perfection.

HESLER & JOSLIN'S PHOTOGRAPHS are taken in every style and size, from the smallest miniature up to full life. These ARE TAKEN ON IVORY, PAPER AND CANVAS—the LIFE and CABINET SIZES on canvas are made precisely like any other first class oil painting, with the exception that the drawing in all the FAITHFULNESS and BEAUTY of light and shade is made with the DAGUERREOTYPE CAMERA, thus giving a MORE PERFECT LIKENESS than is POSSIBLE to attain by the OLD METHOD of PORTRAIT PAINTING.

Persons having Daguerreotypes of deceased or absent friends, can have them copied of any size and with all the beauty and fidelity of nature.

The Public are cordially invited to visit the Gallery, and see its productions.

Will leave Buffalo—Wednesdays and Saturdays.
Will leave Detroit—Tuesdays and Fridays.

The steamers are all new, of the largest class, being about 2000 tons each, commanded and officered throughout by men of large experience and capability, and fitted up and furnished for the convenience of passengers in a style of comfort and luxury entirely unequalled, and are in all respects considered the most desirable steamers that float upon the waters of the United States.

For the transportation of Freight, the Line will surpass anything ever before offered to the public, having arrangements with parties between Boston and New York, and all points west of Buffalo to St. Louis, which will enable them to forward goods and merchandise with greater dispatch than has ever yet been attained.

Shippers of merchandise from the East should mark packages to the care of C. L. Seymour, Buffalo; merchandise from the West, should be to the care of John Hosmer, Agent, Detroit.

Racine and Mississippi Railroad.

OPEN TO DELAVAN!
WINTER ARRANGEMENT.

ON AND AFTER MONDAY, (FEBRUARY 4th), Regular Trains will run between Racine and Delavan, stopping at East Mount Pleasant, Windsor, Union Grove, Dover, Burlington, Lyons, Springfield, Geneva and Elkhorn Stations, as follows:

GOING WEST.
Leave Racine 8 A.M. — Arrive at Delavan 10.45 A.M.
" " 2 P.M. — " " 4.45 P.M.
GOING EAST.
Leave Delavan 6.30 A.M. — Arrive at Racine at 9.15 A.M.
" " 1 P.M. — " " 3.45 P.M.

The 6.30 A.M. train from Delavan connects at Racine with the A.M. trains of the Milwaukee and Chicago Railroad North and South, and the 1 o'clock P.M. train from Delavan connects with the P.M. trains of the Milwaukee and Chicago Railroad, North and South.

Stages connect with the 8 o'clock A.M. train from Racine, at Springfield, for Geneva.

Also, at Delavan, for Darien, Allen's Grove, Summerville, Clinton and Beloit daily, and for Mason's Mills, Emerald Grove and Janesville.

This road is well equipped and furnished with every facility for doing a heavy Freighting Business with dispatch and regularity. The line penetrates the most populous and productive portion of Wisconsin; spacious Grain Warehouses are already erected at the principal stations by private individuals, affording every convenience for the purchase and shipment of all kinds of Produce and Provisions, which together with the eligible Depots of the Company on the line and superior storage and Shipping facilities at the Lake, renders this a desirable line of country for Produce and Lumber operations.

Healthy Bread.
JAS. PYLE'S DIETETIC SALERATUS,

THE GREAT PERFECTION ATTAINED IN the purification of this Saleratus, places it high in demand amongst those consumers who prefer a pure and wholesome article. Its superiority over anything yet in use is acknowledged by all that try it, and its merits only need be known, whence it will take the place of every other Saleratus in the market. It has

DOUBLE THE AMOUNT OF RAISING

that common Saleratus has, and is, therefore, less expensive, and every mother who has regard for the health of her children will not fail to use it. Medical men unanimously admit that the excess of acrid alkali contained in common saleratus, which being constantly consumed in bread, is very destructive to health. It deranges the stomach, secretes in the system, and is the cause of many afflictions that consumers are not aware of. But there is no danger in using the DIETETIC SALERATUS, it being free from all impurities, containing only the necessary qualities for raising, which is sufficient to produce of a better quality, from the barrel of flour, than can be obtained by any other process. It is much superior to supercarbonate of soda for making short biscuit, and all kinds of cake. None will dispute this after trying it.

THIRTY POUNDS MORE BREAD,

MEDICAL INFIRMARY.
THE NEW ERA.

MANKIND HAS FOR CENTURIES BEEN suffering from the consequences of imprudence and self indulgence, which produce most injurious effects upon the constitution, destroying health, happiness and vigor. It is too frequently the case that they neglect a slight disease until it becomes a fearful malady; or by visiting quacks, who are not only base imposters, but very often their destroyer, it becomes impossible for them to recover those blessings of health, without which life becomes a burden. It is the duty of the afflicted not to hesitate from a false sense of fear and modesty, but to seek a regular practical physician who has a thorough acquaintance in this most difficult and intricate department of the Materia Medica. Dr. HUBBELL having devoted his entire life to the study and treatment of Private diseases in connection with the most distinguished Physicians, both in Europe and New York, and having treated the most aggravated cases with great success, takes pleasure in informing citizens of Chicago and vicinity that he has discovered the most certain, speedy and effectual remedy for the cure and effectual eradication of DISEASES OF IMPRUDENCE.

The peculiarity of my treatment consists, not in the selection of hitherto undiscovered remedies, but in the practical adaptation and application of those we already possess; to act directly upon the seminal vessels, and to impart tone without the production of irritation, to strengthen without inflaming or temporarily exciting the generative powers; to renovate by the exhibition of remedies which cure by the removal of the proximate causes of debility and disease, and so permanently restore the lost energies of the system—this is the mode of practice which, in my hands, has been signally successful. There are individuals who indulge the fond, yet irrational hope, that nature is capable of resuming, without assistance, her lost powers; to such, I can only say, that the time which is wasted in this delay is precious and irreclaimable, and can only tend to perpetuate the habits of hopeless imbecility, and render impotence permanent. Many of these are prevented from applying for medical advice and assistance through fear or dread of accidental exposure. In reference to this, it is proper to remark, that my general rule is to burn all correspondence, or return it to the writers, on the termination of their case. It would be a matter of no difficulty to me to detail the histories of hundreds of cases which have been treated most successfully, in which the most developed forms of Gonorrhea, Syphilis, Sore Throat, Noses, Tender Skin, Bones, Pimples and Blotches on the Face, Arms and body, Cutaneous Eruptions, Loss of Hair, Inflammation of the Eyes, Nervous and Generative Debility, Impotence, Sterility, Nocturnal Emissions, Seminal Weakness, Indigestion, and Constitutional Diseases have been exchanged for health, vigor and happiness.

That I have these in my power to bestow, numberless cases sufficiently attest. I make no pretensions but such as are borne out by the fullest testimonies; and of the authenticity of my testimonials, I am prepared to give every proof, short of a disclosure of the confidence entrusted to me. Accustomed from an early age to witness the various diseases which afflict mankind, and to watch their progress through a long career of professional study, in every sphere of life from the humble abode of poverty to the mansion of the wealthy, and having ascertained beyond a doubt, that the destructive habit of self polution was a frequent vice among our youth, I determined to select the generative system as my particular study, and to devote my whole attention to the alleviation of the diseases of this important function.

Since my residence in this city, I have met with numerous cases in which the sufferers have unfortunately placed themselves under the charge of those who were ignorant of the first principles of medicine, and whom it has been only by the utmost care and attention I have been enabled to cure. To all such, who have been suffering under unsuccessful treatment, I would offer my services, guaranteeing that I can do all that is possible for experience and a thorough knowledge of disease in all stages and forms to accomplish.

Persons living at a distance, by giving a plain statement of their case, will be attended to punctually, and medicines forwarded by express, to all parts of the United States.

Address J. Hubbell, M.D., box 1838, Post office.

Chicago, Feb. 25, 1856.

Dr. Hubbell's, 50 Lake street,—

Dear Sir,—Enclosed you will find $25, which please accept as a token of my gratitude.

About two years since, I contracted a certain disease, and becoming very much alarmed, I applied to our best physicians. I labored under the most excruciating pains, notwithstanding my physicians did all they could for me, I was daily growing worse. I then went to New York, and there consulted with some of their best physicians. I was told by them, that they could do nothing for me, so I thought I could do nothing more than return to my friends and die. I suffered every thing but death.

Providentially I saw your advertisement, and resolved, as my last resort, to place myself under your care, when, in a short time, to my great joy, I found I was improving, and in the space of three months, I was entirely well.

My health is now as good as it ever was.
Very gratefully yours, JAMES HUSS.

$10 000 REWARD FOR ANY thing that will surpass Dr. G. A. Hill's Panacea and Indian Medicines, or the remedy of Gonorrhea, Gleets, Strictures, Whites, Pains in the Back and Loins, Seminal Weakness, Affections of the Kidneys, Irritation of the Uthera, Gravel, and all other disorders of the urinary organs, without the least restriction to diet, exposure, or change in application to business. These preparations are entirely and, although powerful, they will not injure in the least the most delicate constitution. This preparation is warranted to cure the above mentioned diseases without using any external application. With my Indian Vegetable Medicines you can rely upon a thorough cure, by calling upon me at my office,

FRENCH PERIODICAL PILLS AND DROPS.—Dr. G. A. HILL, No. 89 La Salle street, Chicago, Illinois, would say, that at great expense, he has prepared from the original recipe, the French Periodical Pills and Drops discovered by J. Harrington, M.D., while practicing in the Hospital, in Paris, under the immediate observation of the renowned RICORD, of Paris, and ACTON, of London.

These Pills are invariably certain to regulate the female system, and can be taken without hazard. They are known by hundreds of females in this country, to be the only preparation ever discovered, that has proved invariably certain in all cases.

SUPPRESSIONS, IRREGULARITIES, &C.

One trial will convince the most skeptical, and never after will they be induced to take any other. Ladies, who have often been deceived by purchasing Pills and Drops and nostrums from under the pretence of effecting a cure, medicines which in nineteen cases out of twenty have an injurious effect upon the system, without producing the desired result, or a sign of it, should shun these bipeds, and use none but the genuine

French Periodical Pills and Drops,

The efficacy of which have been tested in a hundred cases and never failed to effect a speedy cure without any bad result. The Pills and Drops are the result of an extensive practice, and not discovered by accident. To eulogize their virtues would not add to their merit. We would only say, try them. They will be sent to any part of the country secure from observation, by addressing (post paid), Dr. G. A. HILL, 89 La Salle street, Address Box 2139, Chicago, Illinois.

Full directions accompanying each bottle.

DR. HILL TAKES PLEASURE IN ANNOUNCING to the citizens of CHICAGO, and other places, that his office is at No. 89 La Salle street.
